Message from Chief Paula Pechonick

In the January DIN, I reported we were looking for a Tribal Manager. Indeed we have hired one—former Chief Curtis Zunigha. He has jumped right in and tackled several projects. He has focused on policies and procedures. I’m sure we’ve hired a good one.

I am excited to report that this DIN will update you on the good news happening within the Tribe. A new housing program is being started in Kansas (see page 4). Our Caney office is open and serving Tribal members. Our Economic Development projects are moving along, not as fast as we would like but always continuing a forward momentum (see page 10).

By request of Tribal members, we will hold General Council the same day as the election to encourage greater attendance. It will be held November 3, the first Saturday in November. I hope you will attend. Our goal is to have a celebration of the successes of the past year and a transparent and productive discussion of plans for the upcoming year. Your input is important and your questions will be answered. But please don’t hold your complaints, questions or concerns until November. I am available almost anytime and so is the staff and rest of the Council. Harboring bad feelings is not conducive to moving the Tribe forward.

Regarding the election, I support returning to the old way—those who cannot vote in person should request an absentee ballot. We will have a request form in the July newspaper and on the web site, if the majority of the Tribal Council agrees. I was not on the Council when the vote was changed to referendum, but I am told (and from reading the minutes) the reasoning was to encourage more voters. Over the years we have had a small percentage of increase in voters but the cost is thousands of dollars more per election, money that the Tribe can use for more important services to our members.

The ICDBG projects should be near completion by the General Council. There is an update of progress in this issue (see page 5).

In February, I went to RES 2012 (the so-called “Reservation Economic Summit”). I was encouraged by the number of companies who were interested in doing business with the Tribe. I hope to keep moving forward on viable projects. I was able to see many Chiefs and a couple of Tribal members, including former Council member David Brown, who now works in Acquisitions for the BIA.

In March, I went to Washington, DC to meet with the BIA and the Assistant Secretary of Interior. We found out the BIA’s opinion on our Trust Board. We also met with the Assistant Secretary’s Counsel regarding the Tribe’s options in Kansas (gaming and non-gaming) and an economic development joint venture (non-gaming) in Connecticut. We enjoyed visiting Assistant Chief Chet Brooks, BIA Assistant Secretary Larry EchoHawk, and Chief Paula Pechonick meet to discuss the trust fund settlement and the tribe’s expansion into Kansas, March 14, 2012.

Tribal Election and General Council

The Tribal Election and General Council will be held on November 3, 2012 at the Delaware Community Center in Bartlesville. More information regarding the election and the annual meeting will be in the July DIN. Please make sure your address is current with the Tribal Office. In addition, if you have suggestions about items for the agenda for General Council, please email the Tribal Manager at czunigha@delawaretribe.org.
we were able to visit with him.

I was unable to meet with Assistant Secretary EchoHawk due to scheduling conflicts in his office, but he came to Oklahoma on March 14 and we were able to visit with him and attend a reception. I feel very positive about the meetings and as soon as I have anything in writing, we will let you know.

If you are a Tribal member and you have questions or input about strategic plans for the Tribe, please do not hesitate to contact me or any of the Tribal Council members.

Please make sure your address is current with the Tribe. We are implementing a new enrollment system soon, hopefully by the time you receive this publication. I have a personal goal to find as many missing Delawares as we can in the months to come. Please join me in this effort.

I hope Spring is good to you. I hope to see you at the Delaware Powwow on Memorial Day weekend!

Be nicer than you have to be.

Wanishi,

Chief Pechonick

From the Desk of Wayne Stull, Trust Board Chairman

In remembrance of a strong advocate and a champion for the constructive advancement of our tribe, I would like to take this opportunity to remember our friend and brother, Raymond Cline. Raymond represented our Tribe well, not only as a long-time Chairman of our Trust Board and as a Tribal Council member, but he also served several local and state boards and organizations and made known to all his affiliation to the Delaware Tribe of Indians. Our Tribe owes Raymond Cline a debt of gratitude for setting an example of being a good steward with our tribal trust funds. Our condolences are extended to the family, relatives and friends of our brother Raymond Cline.

Recently, Chief Pechonick, myself, and a delegation from our Tribe traveled to Washington DC to meet with Assistant Secretary of the Interior Larry EchoHawk and BIA officials to discuss issues that would improve our Tribe’s ability to deliver services and programs to our tribal members. Chief Pechonick is determined to improve the quality and quantity of services that our tribal government is able to provide to our tribal citizens. I wholeheartedly support her efforts and in our meeting with the BIA, we were able to convey the need for the expansion and direct funneling of resources to our tribal government. In our discussions with the BIA, the need for and the functioning of our tribal Trust Board as an essential and practical layer of tribal governance was examined. Following the March 2009 BIA secretarial election, our tribal constitution was approved by our tribal membership and certified by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The Bureau of Indian Affairs secretarial election also established the Tribal Council as the official governing body of the Delaware Tribe of Indians. In coming months, our Tribe and tribal officials will be discussing the need of our tribal Trust Board and we as tribal members will also be discussing the utility of our tribal Trust Board.

Between February 27 and March 1, Chief Pechonick and I, along with Economic Development staff, attended the National Center for American Indian Enterprise Development RES 2012 Economic Summit to experience the types of economic development projects that are now prevalent throughout Indian country. This year’s visit to RES 2012 marked the first time that the Delaware Tribe participated in the procurement and marketing of a Delaware tribal economic development project. Since our Tribe is in the process of finalizing the purchase of an existing business, our DEA board made the decision to test market procurement contracting opportunities for the project. Our staff met with five national corporations and we now know that there are tremendous contracting opportunities for the company that we are purchasing. This administration is aggressively moving forward to make economic development for our Tribe a reality.

From the Desk of Nate Young, Tribal Council Member

Change. It can be for the better or the worse. However, it is inevitable. Failure to prepare for change often results in disaster. In 2009, our tribe had its federal recognition restored forever. A major change. Because of our restored federal recognition, we must begin to prepare for the changes that come from our restored status. We must become a “player” on the local, state, and federal levels. We cannot afford to play the role of a victim, but that of an aggressive tribe always trying to find the open doors that will lead to a brighter and better future for our membership. Our Council and Chief Pechonick have adopted this philosophy. If we do not take advantage of the opportunities opened for us today, those opportunities may never come our way again.

One positive change is that the Council and Chief have hired Curtis Zunigha, a tribal member and former Chief, to be our Tribal Manager. The hiring of Curtis has been a blessing for the Chief and Council. It has allowed the Council and Chief to focus on tribal governance and to assist us in the strategic planning process. Curtis has been of invaluable assistance in our negotiation with the Cherokee over the Memorandum of Agreement. Recently, I attended a meeting of our Chief, Assistant Chief, and Curtis with Assistant Secretary of the Interior Larry EchoHawk. I was truly impressed with the presentation given by Chief Pechonick and our Tribal Manager. It was obvious to the Assistant Secretary that the Delaware leadership was prepared to discuss the issues.

I would be remiss to fail to mention how well this Council and Chief Pechonick have worked together. We have continued our practice of meeting informally several times a month to discuss pending business. Many of our elder tribal leaders would be surprised to see the civility and respect shown.
From the Desk of Chet Brooks, Assistant Chief

Happy Spring to all Delaware Tribal Members. The weather has been so nice in Northeast Oklahoma that it seems like Spring (Sikan in Lenape) started more than a month ago. Around Christmas I sent many tribal members a 2012 Delaware Calendar and I hope those that received it enjoyed the Lenape art contained within.

It is unfortunate that in late January my Yahoo email account was hacked and many of you on my email list received an email from the hacker trying to make it look like it was from me. The hackers scam was that he was “Chet Brooks, out of money and stranded in Spain” and please send me $2,300 so I can recover about 60 or 70 Delaware email addresses over the next few months my email contacts has been cut by two-thirds.

I apologize to all of my Delaware relatives and friends for any inconvenience the above has caused and sincerely hope you understand that it was the actions of an unknown scamming hacker that caused it and not myself. Should any of you get hacked, Yahoo’s advice is to immediately change your email account password and run a virus and security scan from active virus and security software such as Norton, McAfee, etc. Should hacking reoccur within a short period, set up a new email account. I did the above and no further hacks have occurred and no damage has occurred to the files on my computer, so I’m keeping my old email account.

Having lost over 120 Delaware email addresses, however, I ask any Delawares who received the 2012 Calendar to email or call me so that I can recover your email address. In fact any Delaware who would like a calendar and photo depicting the “Great Penn Treaty and list of Trade Goods,” please email me or call my cell, leave a message, and I will return your call. Your correspondence and discussions are very important to me.

Congratulations are in order for the election to another term for Trust Board Chairman Wayne Stull and Trust Member Verna Crawford. Congratulations to DeAnn Ketchum and John Sumpter on their Trust Board election. And speaking of elections, in the November 2011 Trust Board Election 649 ballots were counted but more than 100 ballots were discarded because voters did not include their Tribal Registration Number. Delaware voters, please do not disqualify your vote in the November 2012 Tribal Council Election.

Yes, my Tribal Council term is up in November and, yes, I am seeking a second term on the Tribal Council. I am respectfully asking for your vote in that election.

Likely items to come up this year are: (1) a majority of the Tribal Council wants to do away with the Trust Board and a majority of Trust Board disagrees; (2) a majority of the Tribal Council wants to eliminate referendum voting (where every adult member gets a ballot) and go back to “requesting an absentee ballot”; and (3) there needs to be more transparency and achievement in our economic development.

I currently am opposed to (1) because I think it may be viewed by many as a greed-driven action of our Council to “take over and spend Trust Funds as the Council pleases.” There are pros and cons regarding (2). The cons are that, according to projections, it will cause only about half of the numbers that would vote by referendum. Local Washington County Delawares say that is a pro because, in addition to the fact that conducting the elections will cost half as much, they are more qualified to make decisions anyway as most of the issues affect them more directly. I’m mixed on this one and can only say whatever we do should be absolutely fair (beyond dispute) to all candidates and all voters.

Regarding (3), our Tribe has had no viable business since the Tribal Smoke Shop closed down in approx. 1990. We have fiddled around ever since that date and probably totally missed the boat on Indian Gaming and other viable business, and even continue to do so today. Yes, we need to get totally transparent about economic development, get off our cans and think out of the box and give proper consideration to any stake in any business that someone else is willing to invest in.

Ultimately, our adult voting membership will decide the answer to all of the above. This is why I need your correspondence and discussion. Please email me at achilenape@yahoo.com or leave a message on my cell phone 918-331-6212 and I will return your call.

MAY THE GREAT SPIRIT BLESS YOU AND YOUR LOVED ONES IN THE SPRING – SIKAN 2012

Section 184 Indian Home Loan Guarantee Program

The Section 184 Indian Home Loan Guarantee Program is a home mortgage specifically designed for American Indian and Alaska Native families, Alaska Villages, Tribes, or Tribally Designated Housing Entities. Section 184 loans can be used, both on and off native lands, for new construction, rehabilitation, purchase of an existing home, or refinance.

Because of the unique status of Indian lands being held in Trust, Native American home ownership has historically been an underserved market. Working with an expanding network of private sector and tribal partners, the Section 184 Program endeavors to increase access to capital for Native Americans and provide private funding opportunities for tribal housing agencies with the Section 184 Program.

To help increase Native access to financing, the Office of Loan Guarantee within HUD’s Office of Native American Programs, guarantees the Section 184 home mortgage loans made to Native borrowers. By guaranteeing these loans 100%, we encourage lenders to serve the Native communities. This increases the marketability and value of the Native assets and strengthens the financial standing of Native communities.

Section 184 is synonymous with home ownership in Indian Country. As of 2010, the Section 184 program has guaranteed over 12,000 loans (almost $2 billion dollars in guaranteed funds) to individuals, Tribes, and TDHEs.

For more information on the Section 184 Home Loan program visit www.hud.gov/offices/pih/ih/homeownership/184 or contact your local bank to find out if they participate in this program.

Former Delaware Tribe Chief Returns to Bartlesville as Tribal Manager

Curtis Zunigha, former Chief of the Delaware Tribe of Indians in the 1990s, has recently been hired as the Tribal Manager. Zunigha, a U.S. Air Force veteran who was also Tribal Manager twenty years ago, will oversee tribal operations and provide administrative support to the tribal government led by current Chief Paula Pechonick. He has served the tribe in many capacities over the last 25 years including Housing Director, Election Chairman, two terms as a Tribal Councilman, and from 1994-98 as Chief. Experience was a major factor in his selection to manage a staff of 27 and an annual budget nearing $1 million.

Zunigha left Bartlesville in 2009 to serve as Manager of the American Indian/Alaska Native Program for the 2010 Census at their headquarters in Washington, D.C. According to the Census Bureau, the 2010 count in Indian Country was the most successful in history. On December 13, 2011 Zunigha was presented the Department of Commerce’s highest honorary award, the Gold Medal, by Secretary John E. Bryson. The award was for “distinguished performance characterized by extraordinary, notable, or prestigious contributions that impact the mission and reflect favorably on the Department.”

Curtis can be reached at 918-337-6573 or by email at czunigha@delaquaretribe.org

Oklahoma Crime Victims in Indian Country May Receive Compensation

Brian Hendrix accepted the position of State-Tribal Crime Victim Liaison with the Oklahoma District Attorney’s Council and began working October 26, 2011.

Funding for the position is through a federal grant from the Department of Justice, Office for Victims of Crimes. The project, the only one of its type in the nation, is a demonstration program dedicated to improving communication among tribal, state, federal, and local officials in order to enhance victim assistance and outreach services to tribal communities in Oklahoma. The purpose of the project is to enhance victims’ compensation and assistance outreach to Oklahoma’s 38 federally recognized tribes.

Brian comes to the District Attorneys Council with a great deal of experience in working with Oklahoma tribes and federal grants. Brian previously served as the Executive Director for the Payne County Drug Court Program. During his tenure at the Payne County Drug Court, Hendrix served as a faculty member for the National Association of Drug Court Professionals Tribal Training Initiative and the Native American Alliance Foundation. His role as a faculty member afforded him the opportunity to interact with tribal leaders from Oklahoma and other states across the nation while assisting them in the development and implementation of Healing to Wellness Courts. Prior to his work in Payne County, Mr. Hendrix delivered and coordinated children’s protective services first as a Child Protection Worker and then as the Indian Child Welfare Coordinator for Muscogee Creek Nation.

Throughout the last two months, Brian has been in the field contacting victim advocates at seventeen different tribes. By the end of September, he will have met with a representative from each of the thirty-eight federally-recognized tribes in the state and plans to develop a permanent point of contact within each tribal community. Additionally, he is working with the Native Alliance Against Violence to include victim’s rights and victim’s compensation information in regional trainings to a combined audience of tribal service advocates and state victim/witness personnel.

Update on the Indian Community Development Block Grants: Xantki (“finally”)

Councilwoman Janifer Brown

Two ICDBG grants are in the works. If you’ll remember, I talked about them during General Council last year, but to see them actually happening is exciting.

April 9, 2012 is the date set for the ground breaking to start the “Social Services Building.” It will be located south of the Wellness Center. It took a couple of months to get a design that we liked and that also fit the grant amount. This building will become the place to apply for all services offered by our tribe, whether tribally or federally funded. The finish date is set for November 10, 2012. That is just in time for all to have a tour when you come to the yearly General Council meeting.

The second ICDBG grant is still in the planning stages. This grant is designed to provide a parking lot for the Social Services Building, to extend Barbara St. out to Madison (necessary to comply with code), to upgrade if necessary the retention pond, and to renovate the kitchen facility. The design for the kitchen has been decided on and is being reviewed by the architect. The road extension and parking lots are in the final stages of design and are being priced. Hopefully the prices for both sections will be right so no changes will be needed. The start date will not be decided on until the pricing is complete and agreed upon.

We also plan to rename Barbara St. once the project is completed. If you have a suggestion for a name, please email it to me (temalosa@yahoo.com) or call the tribal office.

Spring is in the air. Before we know it the grass will be growing, flowers blooming, and trees budding. As the warmer weather starts I would like to remind everyone to keep your flower beds cleaned, yards mowed, weed eaten, curbs trimmed, and trash picked up. Take pride in your homes.

Also I would like to remind everyone in our rental units that we are responsible for the maintenance of the units. However, as stated in the Rental Agreement, it is the participant’s responsibility to report problems and the need for repairs immediately.

The DTHP would like to remind everyone to observe all safety guidelines for using a grill or gas cooker and please do not store these items next to the siding of the houses. We have had several instances where residents have damaged the vinyl siding by placing a hot grill or gas cooker against the siding of the houses.

It is our responsibility to report any changes in income or household size, the change must be reported to the DTHP IMMEDIATELY. If you do not report changes immediately, you may have to repay all monies due, retroactively to the date the changes occurred. There have been some administrative changes at the DTHP to increase efficiency. The DTHP will no longer be mailing monthly billing statements due to the rising cost of postage. This however in no way changes your rent/payment due date. Your payment is still due on or before the 1st of each month.

There has been a change in the date that late fees will be assessed. Payments not received by the 10th of the month will have a late fee of $10.00 added to the account.

Filter changes on rental units will continue to be done on the 1st Tuesday and Wednesday of each month.

Wanishi,
DTHP staff

The Delaware Tribe of Indians’ Office of Enrollment is responsible for all aspects of tribal membership. This office maintains up-to-date tribal enrollment records, processes applications for tribal enrollment, processes relinquishments of tribal enrollment, issues Verification of Indian Preference forms (BIA Form 4432), and facilitates tribal elections by providing a list of eligible voters to the Election Committee.

HOW DO I APPLY FOR MEMBERSHIP?

The first step in the process is printing out an Enrollment Application found on the tribal web site (www.delawaretribe.org/enrollment.htm). After review and verification, you will be issued a tribal membership card and will begin receiving the quarterly newspaper, Delaware Indian News.

If you should need additional information, please contact Shirley Moore at 918-337-6570 or email at smoore@delawaretribe.org.

HOW DO I GET A PHOTO ID?

With our new enrollment software (described below), we will soon be able to easily produce a tribal photo ID. To get one:

1. Download the APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP VERIFICATION CARD from the tribal web site (www.delawaretribe.org/enrollment.htm) or pick up a form at the Tribal Office.
2. Fill out the form (don’t forget the genealogical information on the back).
3. Along with the form, send in a passport-sized photo. Please put your name and tribal roll number on the back of the photo.

We will mail you photo ID as soon as we are able to process the paperwork.

NEW ENROLLMENT SOFTWARE

The Enrollment Department is pleased to announce that the tribe has purchased a NEW ENROLLMENT SYSTEM. This state-of-the-art software, called Progeny ES, is now used by over 300 tribal enrollment offices. It will provide greatly expanded data management capabilities for the tribal enrollment database.

CHANGES IN ENROLLMENT STATUS

It is the duty of members to inform Tribal Enrollment of any change in their enrollment status. This can be anything from a new address or telephone number to a name change due to marriage or divorce. If for any reason you need to update your enrollment status due to a recent change, simply print out a STATUS CHANGE FORM online at www.delawaretribe.org/enrollment.htm, fill it out, and mail it to the address found on the form. Alternatively, you can scan the status change form and email it to smoore@delawaretribe.org, fax it to (918) 337-6591, or simply bring it by the tribal offices if you live nearby. Delaware Tribe Accounting Department

Jade Johnson

The Accounting department has received the new FY 2012 Indirect Cost Rate of 18.55%. This is an increase from the previous FY 2011 Indirect Cost rate of 15.76%. We are moving swiftly on the FY 2011 Audits for the Tribe, Trust, and Housing Program. We anticipate the audits to be completed by the end of April 2012.

We have added a new member to the accounting team, Michael Taylor. Michael started January 1, 2012, and we are happy to have him join the team.

The Chief Financial Officer will be attending the Indirect Cost Summit on March 26-28 in Phoenix, AZ. This training is designed to show Tribal organizations how to compute their own indirect cost rate. Last year, the Tribe contracted this task out.

The Indian Community Development Block Grant (ICDBG) for the Social Services building is coming along. The proposed start date is April 9, 2012 and the proposed completion date is November 10, 2012. The Tribe is hoping that the building will be completed by the next General Council meeting (see related article elsewhere in this issue).

The second ICDBG grant for the infrastructure and expansion of the Elder Nutrition Kitchen is still in the planning stages. The planning team is drafting designs for the kitchen expansion. The team is also making plans to survey the property and re-plat of the roads on the property.

Delaware Tribe Environmental Programs

Jimmie Johnson, DTEP Director

The Delaware Tribe Environmental Program staff recently attended an “Advanced Grant Writing” class facilitated by “The Falmouth Institute” in Las Vegas, Nevada. This three-day class covered all aspects of the grant writing process and provided our staff with a good structural foundation for grant writing endeavors.

While on the subject of grant writing, our Fiscal Year 2013 EPA GAP grant proposal has been submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency for approval. Items in this grant include: salaries for DTEP personnel; maintenance of the 2008 Honda Pickup Truck purchased from GAP funds in 2010; supervision and expansion of the existing recycling program; and research into the fields of E-Recycling (Computers, Cell Phones, Televisions, Miscellaneous Electronic Devices) and Energy Efficiency Auditing of our tribally-owned facilities and housing stock.

On another note, on April 21st 2012 from 8:00 am to 2:00 pm the Delaware Tribe Environmental Program will be participating in “Operation Clean House,” a county-wide recycling event held at the ConocoPhillips parking lot and the Washington County Fairgrounds. Items that can be accepted at the ConocoPhillips parking lot are: compact fluorescent bulbs or tubes, pollutants, household cleaners and toxins, yard care products, pesticides, herbicides, acids, caustics, thinners, household flammable liquids, smoke alarms, oil based paints (NO LATEX or ACRYLIC PAINT), pharmaceuticals, and electronics (cell phones, computers, TVs, VCRs, microwaves, rechargeable batteries, most electronic devices). Items that will be accepted in Dewey are: used motor oil, antifreeze, automotive batteries, car/pickup tires (limit 8, NO DEALERS) appliances (washers, dryers, dishwashers, refrigerators with Freon certificates). Waste that CANNOT be accepted at EITHER location: Alkaline batteries, latex paints, commercially-generated waste, radioactive waste, pressurized gas cylinders, explosives, ammunition, water-reactive chemicals, dioxins, unknowns, trash.

We encourage everyone to take advantage of this free event to properly dispose of household waste that can often be expensive to store and potentially be hazardous to your health.

Thank you.

You Are Invited!
Have Lunch with the Elders

If you haven’t been to lunch with your elders lately, we’d like to invite you to join us. Lunch is served at 12 noon, Monday through Friday, at the Delaware Community Center.

After lunch we have card games on Tuesday and Bingo on Thursday, and yes—there are prizes. The other three days we offer chair exercises in the mornings at 10:30. More activities will be added as we grow. Suggestions for other projects are welcome.

Text of 2010 Nomination for Indian Elder Honors, American Association of Retired Persons (AARP)

Note: Mr. Cline was honored at the 2010 Indian Elder Honors event in Oklahoma City (http://nativetimes.com/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=4249&catid=49&Itemid=25).

Raymond M. Cline has served the Delaware Tribe of Indians for more than 20 years as a volunteer and as an elected official.

Raymond is the son of Shirley M (Secondine) Hutton and the late Michael N Cline. The grandson of Charles and Minnie (Parker) Secondine and Ben and Dora C (Sanders) Cline. He has one brother, Eddie L Cline; a half sister, Kathy A (Cline) Parrett; and a half brother, Harold D Cline. He is extremely proud of his Delaware and Cherokee heritage.

Raymond’s dedication and service to the Delaware Tribe of Indians and the community at large has not gone unrecognized. In 1993, he was honored by Tribal Resolution and Chief Lewis Ketchum for his tireless work and dedication to the Delaware Tribe. Also in 1993, the Nowata Chamber of Commerce honored Raymond M. Cline with the Businessman of the Year Award.

He is the president of the Nowata Historical Society, Museum and Glass Mansion (a private house museum); Chairman of the Nowata Educational Endowment Foundation; Museum for the Shenandoah Valley; and Chairman of the Nowata Chamber Industrial Foundation.

As chairman of Nowata Industrial Foundation, Raymond was instrumental in acquiring the location for the new Cherokee Nation Nowata Indian Clinic, which provides medical services to tribal members. He has been Chair of the Community Service committee since the creation of the Delaware Trust Board and has implemented programs to assist Delaware Tribal Members.

Raymond as a Tribal Council member believed strongly that the Trust Board and the Tribal Council should be working together to advance our Tribe economically, culturally, socially and educationally. Restoration of our Tribal Federal Recognition is of the most important issues facing our tribe. During the years under his watch as Chairman of the Trust Board, the Trust Board audit reports have been clean and trust business conducted in a businesslike manner.
Tribal Representatives Go to Business Trade Fair
Report on RES2012 – Las Vegas, NV

Wayne Stull, Chief Paula Pechonick, Earnest Tiger and Lesa Steele attended the 26th Annual Reservation Economic Summit (RES) on February 27 – March 1, 2012 at the Mandalay Bay Resort in Las Vegas, Nevada. RES 2012 is described as the premier American Indian economic and business development conference in the nation with over 3,000 attendees—a combination of a Reservation Economic Summit and American Indian Business Trade Fair. The theme of RES 2012 was “Indigenous Economic Globalization Now – EMPOWER. CREATE. INNOVATE.” This theme was woven into all the week-long events, which included break-out sessions featuring some of the best minds in Indian Country on a variety of topics including energy and international trade, with a special panel discussion regarding tribal 8(a) programs and certification.

Beginning on Tuesday and Wednesday, the Tribe participated in the RES 2012 American Indian Business Trade Fair, which had hundreds of exhibitors from every industry doing business (or looking to do business) in Indian Country. We created a brochure outlining the product line and services offered by Supply and Equipment International (SEI), contacted each business represented at the trade fair, and made personal contact to introduce them to what DEA partnered with SEI had to offer.

Before leaving for RES 2012, Earnest and Lesa attended a training session with the owner to educate ourselves with the key talking points to discuss with potential customers. Over 100 brochures were passed out to various prospects. We now have a listing of those prospects and are in the process of making follow-up contacts and providing additional information. We are also registering SEI into various company databases as to what products/services we can supply.

Before leaving for RES 2012, we registered to participate in the RES 2012 Procurement Pavilion, which gave Native businesses access to business organizations and government entities looking for strategic alliances within Indian Country. We were matched with five major companies and met with each on Thursday, which proved to give the DEA several very promising leads to selling/investment in tribal economic development projects. We were advised that less than five percent of the two billion dollars in tribal economic development bonds have actually been utilized by the 565 federally-recognized Indian tribes in our nation.

After spending several months exploring our options with the TED bonds, we are now working to secure financing for our projects. It should be mentioned here that our Tribe was allocated 22.5 million dollars in Tribal Economic Development (TED) Bonds through the United States Treasury in a program managed by the Internal Revenue Service under President Obama’s American Recovery and Re-investment Act. Our Tribe, along with tribes throughout the nation, discovered that the TED bonds actually provided little to no incentive to attract financial making a major announcement soon in regard to our economic development program.

We are announcing here an employment opportunity for a generator mechanic/technician (see the job listing elsewhere in this issue). The initial employment opportunities will be located within northeastern Oklahoma, with the intent of creating a national company operating throughout the nation. As we finalize the purchase of a back-up power system company, we will provide our tribal members with plans for how we intend to grow the business, tribal employment/training programs, and the opportunities that this business will provide.

Delaware Enterprise Authority

Lesa Steele, Economic Development Coordinator

The swearing-in ceremony of Chief Paula Pechonick in November 2010 occurred with tribal members nationwide believing that the Delaware Tribe could achieve significantly more now and in the future than we have in the past. Since the day that Paula Pechonick became our first female chief, she has accepted the responsibility of reviewing and examining the effectiveness of our tribal government—all programs and projects and their level of responsiveness to all tribal members, whether local or in some distant location from our tribal headquarters. After a year and five months in office, the changes that have occurred under Chief Pechonick’s administration are measurable and visible through the construction activities that are underway, through the expansion of personnel and programs, through the level of funding, through the addition of grants and entitlement programs, and through the reactivation of the Delaware Enterprise Authority as the economic development arm of the Tribe.

Chief Pechonick now serves as the Vice President of the Delaware Enterprise Authority. In her role as Vice President, she is able to convey the importance of creating sustainable economic development projects that will be profitable for our Tribe and create high-wage and salary employment opportunities for our tribal members and others.

The DEA has spent the last several months researching and developing business plans and development strategies for two major economic development projects. We are now working to secure financing for our projects.

It should be mentioned here that our Tribe was allocated 22.5 million dollars in Tribal Economic Development (TED) Bonds through the United States Treasury in a program managed by the Internal Revenue Service under President Obama’s American Recovery and Re-investment Act. Our Tribe, along with tribes throughout the nation, discovered that the TED bonds actually provided little to no incentive to attract financial

Now, upon our return, we are creating a database with the contacts that we made during RES 2012 and entering our information about the Tribe and SEI with those companies that we met with at the Procurement Pavilion and during the trade fair.

What’s New

In the Stories section of the Lenape Talking Dictionary we have recently added a story or anecdote told in 1939 by Willie Longbone (1867–1946). The title is That Is Money, and the URL of the story is:

It is wonderful to have recordings made that long ago, and excerpts from the following article tell how they came into existence:

Willie's Tales

This last week Willie Longbone sang, the 71-year-old Delaware Indian, perched on a high stool, pounding a deer-skin drum. Willie Longbone sang for fun, but his audience, a seminar of the Linguistic Institute of America convened on the University of Michigan campus, plied their pencils feverishly, transcribing his words into phonetic symbols. Then for their benefit Willie translated his songs and long, chanted stories into English. Reason the scribbling audience paid such close attention was that Willie Longbone was speaking a nearly dead language.

Willie Longbone learned English at a Government school. Recently Professor Charles V. Oegelin of DePauw University discovered Willie on his 80-acre allotment in Oklahoma, and brought him to Ann Arbor for the summer session. Willie has already made some 50 phonographic recordings of Delaware songs and tales. Between performances he walks around the University of Michigan campus in faded overalls, and a floppy straw hat.

--Time Magazine, Aug. 07, 1939

We hope to add more of his recordings in the future. Unfortunately many have been played so many times, probably by Dr. V. Oegelin, that the old records have become extremely worn and distorted. It takes a lot of time to prepare the sound files so they are understandable. We would like to thank Dr. Ives Goddard for his expertise in editing this story.

Project History

In 2002 the Lenape Language Preservation Project received a grant from the National Science Foundation to produce a dictionary database of Lenape. We had the database built to create a Lenape Talking Dictionary which could be placed online, and much of the funding went to digitizing and preserving our existing audiocassettes made in past years with native speakers of Lenape. The Dictionary first went online in October 2005, and was officially online in February 2006.

In April 2011 we received a smaller DEL (Documenting Endangered Languages) grant, also from the National Science Foundation, to upgrade the dictionary database. Included in the upgrade is the ability to look up words using Lenape, and a better connection of the singular and plural forms. Also featured are Stories in Lenape which can be played line-by-line. At the present time there are sixteen stories and two hymns to listen to and learn from.

On the top line click on the word “Stories” and you will be taken to a list of them. You can click on the red speaker icons to hear the titles of the stories. To hear the entire story click on the word “View” next to the name of the story. You will see the story written in short phrases or sentences in Lenape with a free English translation under it. There are a series of red speaker icons and by clicking each one you will hear the Lenape for that line. As the previous line finishes playing if you click the next icon and then the next on down through the story you can hear the story as it was spoken in its entirety. We will be adding more stories as time permits.

One of the stories entitled One Wehixamuken's Story was translated into French by Valérie Leteinturier in 1989, and this story is also translated into German by Dr. Grant Leneaux, a Delaware tribal member and a professor of language so non-English speakers are able to read a sample of a true Lenape story.

Additional Information

The Talking Dictionary is a work in progress. At present the number of Lenape words in the Dictionary is 15,250 and we have many more to add. Of these words over 6,250 have sound files, and over 1,650 have sample sentences. We continue to convert audiocassettes of Lenape speakers to digital format, which are then edited to extract the Lenape words.

These are then entered into the Dictionary database and become immediately available on the Internet. We should mention that the sound files are not all of studio quality. Most were recorded whenever and wherever possible – sitting in someone’s living room, on their porch, in a classroom, etc., so you may hear a dog barking in the background, or a baby crying, or other people talking.

We hope you will find this useful as a learning tool. We will continue adding to the Grammar and Lessons sections so you can start learning how to construct sentences in Lenape. It is now up to the Lenape people who want to learn the language to make good use of this material the Lenape elders left for your benefit.

Preserving Delaware History: Documents, Books, Pictures

Anita Mathis

The project to preserve Delaware history discussed in the last two issues of this newspaper continues. We continue to collect books, other documents, images, and artifacts.

Tribal members are welcome to come to my office and see what is being done to preserve our Tribal history. I have begun to receive donations from Tribal members that have been true treasures for our Tribe.

I am located in the Tribal Offices next to the Elder Housing, Monday-Thursday 10:00am to 4:00pm.

We are hoping to pursue larger grants that will help us build and equip a tribal museum building, but in the meantime these digital copies of our tribal records provide us the opportunity to share them more widely and also help ensure their long-term preservation.

As tribal members we hope you will donate pictures, artifacts, or any information on past Tribal members, customs, dress, books, activities etc. For now material can be scanned and/or photographed and returned to the owner; eventually we would love donations or long-term loans of the actual objects.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions, comments or to make arrangements to donate or loan any pictures, documents, books, artifacts or anything related to our Delaware Heritage.

With your help this can be a tremendous success.

Thank you.

Motion passed all in favor.

Greg Brown and Jim Hammon reported on a consultation that they attended at Delaware Water Gap, paid for by National Park Service. NPS wanted the Tribe to consult on a large power line that is scheduled to run through Delaware Water Gap. Although none of the proposed actions would impact the area of the Tribe’s fairly recent reburial of ancestral remains, the Tribe, as well as several other tribes, was asked to comment on the power line and what the impact would be to the Tribe’s concerns (especially archaeological sites along the river and elsewhere in the Park). Consultation is very important and something the Historic Preservation Office does 50 or 60 times a month as part of the Section 106 process, but because this is a very large and important project (to run electricity from western Pennsylvania to New York and New Jersey), the Tribe ought to make a strong statement, hence the request for a tribal resolution. The National Park Service solicited comments not only from the Tribe, but from other affected groups, before making its recommendation about whether to approve a permit to allow the line to be run through the Delaware Water Gap. The tribes brought in for consultation all agreed that our recommendation should be to deny the permit—the so-called “No Action” alternative. There were many conservation groups who also objected. However, the project may happen regardless (at which time the Tribe will have additional opportunities to consult and participate in the decision making process). The park will make a preliminary recommendation in March and its final recommendation in October, taking tribal comments into consideration.

Nathan Young said Tribal Judges Don Mason, Charles Randall and Rick Barnes will start meeting on a regular schedule.

Titus Frenchman said Kerry Holton, President of the Delaware Nation and Cara Cowan Watts, Councilwoman from Cherokee Nation, spoke at the Elder’s lunch last week and asked for a resolution to help clarify our position on the issue of fake tribes. Jenifer Pechonick asked that we be mindful to not exclude our Canadian brothers and sisters. Five years ago, the resolutions would have been against the Delaware Tribe of Indians. Wayne Stull asked Titus Frenchman to supply Curtis Zunigha with the sample resolutions. Curtis Zunigha asked if the Council wanted to have community meetings to obtain additional input.

Jenifer Brown asked Titus Frenchmen for an updated Elder’s Budget.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:00 pm.

Cultural Preservation Program Committee Report
Annette Ketchum

The Trust Board’s Cultural Preservation committee meets regularly on the third Tuesday of each month. The committee is chaired by Chet Brooks and co-chaired by John Sumpter. It is an open meeting for any tribal member to observe.

The cultural committee makes decisions pertaining to the Delaware Culture and oversees the Trust Distribution Funds allocated for our culture. Those departments working closely with the Cultural Preservation Program are: elders committee, children programs, historical preservation, and document preservation.

For the past year or more Cultural Preservation dinner gatherings have been on hold. However, the committee voted to restart this activity and have it monthly, not weekly. The first gathering is April 10. (It will generally be on the second Tuesday of the month.)

The dinner will be at 6:00pm. Bring a covered dish to share. The plates, silverware, cups, etc. will be provided. At 7:00 the leaders will be teaching and demonstrating the traditional dances, shell shaking and the lead dance. We encourage people of all ages to come and learn. Girls, be sure to bring your cans.

In May Culture Preservation will sponsor “Delaware Night” at the Fall-Leaf Dance Grounds on Thursday May 24, at 6:00 p.m., at the Thaxton Camp. It will be a covered dish dinner. Please bring your dishes, and plan to visit with many Delaware friends and families you have not seen since last year. It is a beautiful time together. Dancing will follow after dark. This is the start of the 48th Annual Delaware Pow Wow Weekend.

On September 28 and 29 the annual Delaware Days Celebration will be held at Fall-Leaf Dance Grounds. The covered dish dinners will be at 6:30 p.m. each evening. More details will be published regarding this annual event. Put it on your calendar.
Delaware Tribe Historic Preservation Office

Brice Obermeyer

The Delaware Tribe’s Historic Preservation Office (DTHPO) is tasked with protecting and preserving sites of cultural and religious significance to the Delaware Tribe. Such sites include current and past gravesites, archaeological sites, traditional cultural properties and reburial locations.

The DTHPO is funded by the revenue generated from the consultation fees provided by private companies who require our services. A vast majority of our daily time is spent providing formal and timely responses to consultation requests from public and private companies. Beyond such routine work, we also have the following news items to share about our work over the past few months.

Cemetery Preservation

As reported in the December issue of the Delaware Indian News, we are pleased to be able to provide for the preservation and maintenance of Delaware cemeteries beginning in the Spring of 2012. Our inaugural efforts will begin with the Delaware, Busby, Silverlake and Jackson-Falleaf cemeteries in Washington County with plans to extend this service to the additional four counties in the Delaware Service area in subsequent years. While we have the locations of many Delaware cemeteries in Oklahoma, we are also aware that there are other unrecorded burial locations in Washington and other counties and we would like to include such locations in our database so that we may have a lasting record and protect them from any future disturbance.

If you know of such unrecorded locations, please contact Brice Obermeyer at (918) 335-7026 or bobermeyer@delawaretribe.org.

2012 Flint Hills Conference, April 6–7, 2012

Our office is partnering with the Osage Nation to host the 2012 Flint Hills Conference at the campus of Emporia State University in Emporia, KS on April 6–7, 2012. The Flint Hills Conference is a regional meeting of archaeologists and advocates with an interest in the archaeology and history of Eastern Kansas and Oklahoma. The conference will include presentations on regional archaeology, tribal historic preservation and Delaware and Osage NAGPRA related issues. Participation at the conference is free and we encourage anyone with an interest to attend. If you would like to attend the conference or contribute a presentation, please contact our office at bobermeyer@delawaretribe.org.

NAGPRA-Funded Research

Following our extensive consultations with the State Museum of Pennsylvania, New York University College of Dentistry and the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology at Harvard University in summer 2011, as well as several other institutions with shared collections in the region, we have now digitized and reviewed all of the provided inventories, photographs, primary and secondary documents and site files for five Delaware affiliated historic cemeteries and a dozen isolated burials. There are several hundred individual burials that were excavated from these sites that await reburial.

Documentation and Repatriation of the Wapwallopen Site

Our consultation and review of the collected information from the State Museum of Pennsylvania (SMOP) identified the Wapwallopen site as the first collection to seek repatriation. Wapwallopen is a historic Delaware village (ca. 1740–1760) located along the Susquehanna River in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. We have identified this site as our primary site to be repatriated because (1) the Notice of Inventory Completion for the site has been posted and it is already affiliated with the Delaware Tribe and the Delaware Nation, (2) it appears from our research that all of the remains that were excavated are held by one institution, and (3) the records from the excavation are thorough enough for us to most confidently identify the funerary objects and re-associate them with the appropriate individuals.

To ensure that all of the human remains and funerary objects were accounted for, Greg Brown travelled to the SMOP in Harrisburg, PA to research the Wapwallopen collection from February 21–24. His research on the collection answered many unresolved questions and we now feel confident that all the human remains and funerary objects that were excavated are in the museum AND are now associated with the correct individuals. Greg did also find additional funerary objects in the collection that were not included in the inventory. The SMOP is currently drafting a correction to their Notice of Inventory Completion based on our research and Greg’s findings. Once the corrected Notice is published, we can move forward with the repatriation.

We will now consult with the Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge-Munsee to answer a few additional questions and concerns about the treatment and preparation of the individuals as we wait for their upcoming repatriation and reburial. We will also begin discussing with the other two tribes the location for a reburial spot. We would like to have the reburial in the Wilkes-Barre vicinity of Pennsylvania because of its proximity to the original cemetery. Although we would like to have the reburial in the summer of 2012, funding and the need for consensus will probably push this reburial to summer of 2013.

Traditional Delaware Funerals: An Ethnographic Approach for Documenting Funerary Objects under NAGPRA

A final draft report on Traditional Delaware Funerals is now complete and two paper copies and two digital copies were submitted for the Tribal Council’s review and comment. The approved report will satisfy the primary deliverable for our FY2010 NAGPRA Documentation Grant. We will also share the approved report with the Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge Munsee. The approved report will also be shared with our collaborating museums and be submitted to an appropriate journal for publication in order to widely disseminate our guidance for correctly documenting the funerary status of Delaware affiliated funerary objects.

Draft Report on Treatment History

An additional deliverable of our FY 2010 NAGPRA Documentation Grant is to research and report on the treatment histories of Delaware affiliated collections at our collaborating museums. A draft report on the Treatment Histories of Delaware Affiliated Collections at the New York University College of Dentistry, Peabody Museum and State Museum of Pennsylvania is complete and has been sent to each museum for their final review. Once edited and approved by the museums, we will finalize the report and submit it to the Tribal Council for approval.

Repatriation of Individual Human Remains from the New York Area

Consultations with the New York College of Dentistry are now complete and we are prepared to repatriate from them as well as from the National Park Service and the National Museum of the American Indian who hold several sets of remains from the New York area.

Once we are able to find a secure location in the lower Hudson River Valley, we will officially proceed with the reburial. Plans are currently underway for representatives from the Delaware Tribe, Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge Munsee to meet in May at Morristown, NJ to discuss this, and other issues.

FY 2012 NAGPRA Grant Submitted

In early March we submitted a grant proposal to the National Park Service’s National NAGPRA office seeking funding that will enable our office to continue working toward the documentation and repatriation of the Abbott Farm Complex and the Chambers Site two sites—from which almost 200 graves were excavated. Our request for approximately $90,000 over the next two years, if funded, would allow us to consult with four additional museums who hold collections from these two significant sites and combine all of the collections in order to facilitate our repatriation. NAGPRA grants are competitive and notifications of awards are sent out in June.

The abstract for the grant is included below:

The Delaware Tribe seeks federal funding to carry out consultations and research that will lead to the comprehensive listing of all of the Notice of Inventory Completions for all of the human remains and funerary objects from two significant Delaware burial sites; the Abbott Farm Complex and the Chambers Site. With support from a FY 2010 Documentation Grant, we consulted with the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology on their Abbott Farm collection and with the State Museum of Pennsylvania on their Chambers Site collection. During these consultations we learned that at least four other museums also hold collections from the Abbott Farm Complex and the Chambers Site. However, we have not had an opportunity to consult with the four additional museums and each museum is at different stages in their documentation process.

The Delaware Tribe requests NAGPRA funding that will allow us to consult with the New Jersey State Museum, the Field Museum of Natural History and the American Museum of Natural History on their collections from the Abbott Farm Complex and with the Carnegie Museum of Natural History on their collection from the Chambers Site. While we will also consult with each museum on their other collections, our grant supported consultations will focus on work that will lead to a NAGPRA inventory for the Chambers Site, a cultural affiliation study for both sites and the publication of four Notices of Inventory Completion; one from each of the additional museums. We will also document the treatment histories of the collections in preparation for a repatriation of both sites.

Jeffrey Journeycake, a Delaware soldier in the United States Army, 1/75 Rangers Battalion, has sent to the Tribe a flag that he had carried on his last deployment. His words are better than any I can give you so I type what he has written below for you to read for yourselves.

Wanishi Jeffrey, for your service to our Country and for our people. Thank you so much.

To: The Delaware Tribe of Indians

Hello, my name is Jeffrey Journeycake. I am a proud member of the Delaware Tribe of Indians. I’m from Miami, Oklahoma but currently stationed in Savannah, Georgia, in the 1/75 Ranger Battalion.

I would like to dedicate this flag in honor of the Delaware Tribe. I carried it with me on over 60 missions in Afghanistan, on my last deployment.

Best Regards,

Jeffrey Journeycake

As I See It

The Cherokee Nation (CN) has recently published that it influences the economy of the State of Oklahoma through employment and businesses in the amount of 1.06 billion dollars. That’s awesome. But what is not awe-inspiring is the fact that the Cherokee Nation influences the Delaware Tribe as well. The Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) signed by Chief Smith (Cherokee) and Chief Douglas (Delaware) in 2006 to help the restoration of our federal recognition has solidified our Tribe’s powerless position in the 14 counties which CN claims as its jurisdiction area even though those chiefs are no longer in office.

Our tribe, although federally recognized, cannot grow and flourish because we are by definition landless—no jurisdiction. We will never be allowed jurisdiction in the fourteen counties, much less have land in trust with the tax advantages for tribal businesses and attracting other business partnerships. It simply will not happen because the Cherokee Nation will not allow its land base to be fractured by giving any jurisdiction to the Delaware Tribe. We did have dual jurisdiction in the five-county area during my term as Chief, but that is off the table.

There is talk about establishing tribal offices in Caney, KS to have a presence in that state (at a former child care building). Caney would be a start for separation from CN, but, I am concerned since the southeast Kansas area is the realm of the Old Osage Nation. We could spend a lot of time planning and then find out Caney wouldn’t work for land in trust or jurisdiction.

So, what is our Tribe to do? It seems to me that we must return to our last reservation. That is in Wyandotte-Leavenworth-Douglas counties of northeast Kansas. We can maintain our presence in Bartlesville exactly as it is. But on our old reservation we will have the latitude to have jurisdiction, land in trust, and control of our own Housing Department and Child Care Department without Cherokee Nation oversight. We can develop businesses without paying taxes to CN or the State of Oklahoma. We can attract partnerships with businesses. We can protect the Delaware Tribe’s history and culture without the fear of Cherokee Nation absorbing us.

WILL WE SUCCEED AS A TRIBE OR FALL IN POLITICAL TURMOIL?

Article by Trust Board Member Joe Brooks, # 13 Delaware Acres Cts, Chelsea, OK 74016

It is a nice Spring Day Lennape Elders, Brothers and Sisters. For over 30 years I have served the Delaware Tribe, first as Council Member, several terms as Trust Board Member, and three years as Chief. During that 30 years we have had success and we have had failure, and I suppose that is the “normal course of events for most Tribes.” However, in the last year I have become very worried concerning “The future of our Tribe.” My concerns follow:

Five or six years ago our Tribe chartered the Delaware Enterprise Authority to be a holding company to oversee any economic development to be done by our tribe. This was done under a prior Chief along with the consent of four Council members (Stull, Crawford, Hayes, and one other, now deceased). Two Council members (Ketchum and Zunigha) opposed this action, presuming the Charter gave excessive powers to DEA, was initially costing the Tribe $50,000 in an unsecured loan, and gave the then-Chief sole appointment power to appoint the five-person DEA Board. Disregarding the fact that such power is probably unconstitutional (Chief has one vote on our seven-member Tribal Council), the then-Chief appoints himself and then-Assistant Chief to the DEA Board. The DEA then wasted two years doing little but throwing two concerned Council members out of a couple of their meetings, arguing “It is none of their * business.” But finally, in May 2010 the DEA gets a potential developer to commit $50,000 per month to our Tribe to investigate business potential in Ohio. In all fairness to DEA they did submit a “Required Annual Financial Report” to Tribal Council in October 2010. DEA also paid back the $50,000 startup loan to Tribal Council. Did they do so because our now Chief was campaigning on a platform to take DEA out of business, or at least regulate them? Or did DEA submit required Annual Report because they perceived there was a General Council move to abolish them or a possible initiative petition to do same? At any rate the Trust Board has continued to fund the office of Economic Development Director at a rate of $15,000 per year but myself and at least three other Trust Board members have been concerned for our Trust Responsibility in this regard. Relatives, the DEA has taken in $875,000 from one group of developers in the last 23 months. The DEA is five months late in submitting their required Annual Financials to the Tribal Council.

Along with three other Trust members, I am very concerned. HOW MUCH OF THE $875,000 IS LEFT AND WHY IS OUR COUNCIL UNCONCERNED ABOUT HOW THE DIFFERENCE WAS SPENT?

My additional concern is about our Trust Board. In no way do I contend that our Trust Board is any part of our Governing Body. The Supreme Authority of our Tribe rest in the adult voting membership and our Constitution is explicit that the elected Tribal Council is our Governing Body. You are probably aware that the Trust Board has the explicit duty to oversee our Trust expenditures according to the Master Trust Plan. You are probably aware that one “Newly Appointed Tribal Council Member” published a half-baked article in the October 2011 Delaware Indian News. ■

Indian News stating that our new 2009 Constitution (folks, our Constitution is not new—it is the same one we have had since 1982 as amended) gave the Tribal Council the power to simply abolish the Trust Board. You are probably not aware that certain members of our Tribal Council even went to the BIA Office in Muskogee about this and came back reporting it would be just fine for the Council to simply abolish the Trust Board and that the Council was even going to stop the Trust Board Election (a week or so after two Candidates had filed for Trust Chairman and four Candidates had filed for three empty Trust seats). Thank God there was one Council member (also a Trust member) who after two Candidates had filed for Trust Chairman and four other needs. This funding is meant to help meet needs of the senior population where there is no other resource available to help.

The Lifeline and Link Up programs help to provide telephone service to low-income consumers living on Tribal lands for as little as $1 a month. Lifeline and Link Up, run by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), help eligible low-income consumers establish and maintain telephone service by discounting services provided to them by wireline and wireless providers. These programs are part of the Federal Universal Service Fund, or USF.
