A Message from the Chief
Paula Pechonick

He’ kulamālsi hàch? I hope all is well with you and your relatives. The summer is on us. I hope you are staying cool and hydrated!

Our two Indian Community Development Block Grants (ICDBG) finished in April and May. The projects included an expansion of the kitchen in the Delaware Tribal Community Center which serves the Title VI Elder Nutrition Program each weekday at noon (if you haven’t seen the kitchen or the programs you should stop by!), construction of the Social Services building and parking lot, and as required by the city, extension of Barbara Avenue and expansion of the retention pond. In a separate project, the Tribe established a Memorial Garden area near the pond and walking path. We anticipate the development of this area as this season permits and look forward to next spring’s Memorial Gardens, Community Garden, and Traditional Garden. We are listening for Veteran’s Memorial ideas.

Along with shuffling programs (per the grant) into the Social Services Building, my office has now moved into the Community Center.

The ICDBG application for 2014 is for a new childcare center in Bartlesville. The current program is full and is in need of more space. If the grant is awarded, the plan for the current existing childcare building is to use this space to expand the Tribe’s Library, Museum and Archives.

The Housing Program purchased an apartment complex in Bartlesville formally called “Irene Apartments,” now renamed “The Lodges.” There have been more problems than expected—how silly, I should expect less? But we are working on it.

Housing Program expansion areas are determined by evaluation of the waiting list. If you are interested in living at a particular area you need to make your interest known to the Program, so appropriate resources can be directed to areas of interest in the annual Indian Housing Plan.

In cooperation with the Delaware Child Development Program, in April I hosted the first gathering of the female tribal leaders of Oklahoma. Of the eight female tribal leaders at the time (Governor, President, Chief or Chairman) five were able to attend, as well as our female council members.

UNOKT (United Indian Nations of Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas) has reorganized. I have been attending UNOKT meetings to listen to and discuss issues with other tribal leaders across the area affecting multiple tribes. In June, Oklahoma Governor Mary Fallin came to talk to the tribes. This was the first time in history that Oklahoma’s governor has done so.

The Delawares were invited to the Wyandotte County Museum in Kansas exhibit opening for the traveling Smithsonian exhibition “Native Words, Native Warriors,” about Native code talkers (for details go to http://www.sites.si.edu/exhibitions/exhibits/codetalkers/main.htm). The museum is located within our last reservation boundaries so we took a vanful of tribal members April 21.

We were ably guided by Doug Spangler, who not only showed us the museum but also our old stomp grounds. We also visited Ne-Con-He-Con’s grave site.

The next day a vanful went to Oklahoma City to the First Lutheran Church for the opening of time capsule buried for 100 years! The capsule contained some papers from Charles Journeycake, and other Native American items (see photo on pg 13). On May 9 we had a meeting with the Cherokee on the Aid-to-Tribal Government (ATG) monies and other MOA issues. Also in May, a delegation visited the Salish and Kootenai Tribes in Montana to discuss economic development and organizational opportunities for the Tribe (story on page 24).

On May 22 we officially opened our new Social Services Building, with a smoke-off ceremony and a ribbon-cutting in cooperation with the Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce. Incidentally, the Tribe has also joined the Chamber.

Council member Annette Ketchem and I went to tribal member’s Jacque McDonald art show in Joplin (story on page 11).

Finally, we are still working on our “Return to Kansas” project! Have a good summer!

Poem submitted by Jim Remenker
From the Desk of Nate Young, Tribal Council Member

Our sincere thanks go to the Delaware Powwow Committee for making this year’s event an overwhelming success. It seems that more dancers are coming every year and the numbers of camps are growing. We owe the success of this annual tradition to the Powwow Committee and the many individuals who contribute untold hours to its success.

Recently, several members of the Tribal Council traveled to the Confederated Tribes of the Salish and Kootenai Tribe reservation (CSKT) in Montana, previously known to many of us as the Flathead. They were extremely gracious and welcoming hosts. It would be fair to say they went the “extra mile” to make our trip a success.

The purpose of the trip was to learn from a tribe that already does about a half billion in business revenues and does not rely on gaming for a source of revenue. Additionally, they are preparing to take ownership and operation of one of the nation’s largest hydroelectric plants. They literally do business throughout the world.

The most inspiring part of the trip was to meet members of a tribe that had a “can do” attitude and do not take “no” for an answer. They will tell you that it has not always been easy, but their persistence eventually brought about rewards.

Thanks to the efforts of Jim and Libbi Gray, this trip was an overwhelming success. Furthermore, the Grays are working on an arrangement whereby the CSKT will help us on our future projects. Thank you to the Grays.

It amazed me how hard Chief Pechonick made us work on this trip. Even though this is one of the most beautiful areas of America, she did not give us any time to enjoy the scenery. The Chief and Jim Gray had arranged the schedule so we were putting in 12-hour days. However, it was worth it. As one famous American stated, “I have been to the mountain and seen the Promised Land.” We too saw the Promised Land. I personally saw the power of vision and of persistence. As Chief Pechonick emphasized on our return trip, our Tribe is also capable of similar achievements.

Finally, a topic that cannot be ignored is our relationship to the Cherokee Nation and the Memorandum of Agreement. Cherokee Chief Bill Baker has listened to our concern and is sympathetic. Regrettably, his ability to work with us on the Memorandum of Agreement has been limited because of action taken by the Cherokee Tribal Council.

The Treaty of 1866 authorizes the Delaware to vote in Cherokee elections. The failure by some of our members to do so does nothing but hurt our Tribe. If Delaware’s do not vote in Cherokee elections and support those that are sympathetic to cause, then you are only hurting your Tribe. Do you want Cherokee leadership that wants to work with our Tribe or leadership that does not care? 10,000 Delaware’s can make a difference.

Trust Board Information

Trust Board Chairman Chet Brooks

Waniishi Wuli Kishku Nipan – Thanks For This Good Summer Day:
You will remember from April, 2013 DIN that Delaware Trust Board has tirelessly worked for the past many months on revisions to our Trust Document and Master Trust Plan. The final draft of the proposed changes is addressed in this edition of Delaware Indian News. Trust Board Vice Chair Verna Crawford and Trust Members Bonnie Jo Griffith and John Sumpter have all submitted articles in this DIN regarding this proposed change. The Trust Board invites all members to review this proposed document and plan, and submit your suggestions or desired changes to it. We want all the suggestions we can get as the new Trust Document and Plan will have to be approved by referendum vote of our adult voting membership in November.

Town Hall meetings will be held in July seeking input from tribal members on the new document and plan. These are to be held at Chelsea on July 13th, Nowata on July 20th and Bartlesville on July 27th. Food and drinks will be provided at each meeting and door prizes will be drawn. Please plan to attend one or more of these Town Meetings and let your voice be heard. If you cannot attend any of these Town Meetings let us hear your thoughts and concerns about the new Document and Plan by email, letters or phone.

My personal thoughts on this Trust Document and Plan change are as follows: I and all other current Trust Board Members acknowledge and believe that our Constitution and Tribal Council are the Delaware Tribe’s governing document and governing body since 1982. If we did not believe that why would we have continued to make Constitutional Amendments and elect a Tribal Council particularly in the years 1991-96 and unfortunately again between 2004-09? Or why would Council and Trust Board Members take an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the Delaware Tribe of Indians? The Trust Board knows that it has the very limited authority to act only as “Trustees” in the expenditure of our “Trust Funds.” The Trust Board also knows that our “Adult Voting Membership is the Supreme Authority” in the Delaware Tribe, that the Adult Voting Membership voted to continue our funds in trust in 2011, and that town meetings in 2012 expressed our peoples wish to continue “electing” Trust Board members.

Now, none of the facts stated in the above paragraph should be taken to mean there is no room for change in the Trust Document and Plan. The Tribal Council would gain 15% of the annual Trust interest instead of the 10% the original document provided. In addition, the Trust would pay for its own annual audit, saving tribal administration another $5,000-7,000. Holding Trust elections on even years, same as Council elections, will save $7,000-12,000 every two years. In addition the new plan would increase Community Service, Cultural Preservation, Elder and Veteran Committee funding by 5% each. I see all of these changes as positive. Please respond by letting us know how you see them.

Thanks for your attention and response to the proposed document-plan.

Proposed Trust Document Revisions

Trust Board Secretary Verna Crawford

Current events and the age of the present Delaware Trust Document has made it essential for revisions to bring the document up to date. The Trust Board has drafted a proposed revised document (see later in this issue) and is presenting it to all Delaware tribal members for comments. Once the comment period ends the document will be changed and put out for a vote.

This article contains historic information and an explanation regarding the changes proposed. The final draft will be on the ballot in November for ratification by tribal members. The comment period will end August 1, 2013 to allow time for final revisions. The document that will be on the ballot will be printed in the October DIN. All tribal members should carefully read this article and the proposed revised Trust Document.

The Trust Board has received some input from the Tribal Council, staff members and other Tribal members. Now we need more.

In this edition of the DIN the Board is presenting a first draft of the proposed document to all tribal members for comments and recommendations. Address your comments to the Delaware Trust Board at 170 NE Barbara, Bartlesville, OK 74006, send an email to us at trustrevisions@delawaretribe.org, or come to one of the planned Town Hall meetings.

Three Town Hall meetings will be held in July. The first will be on July 13 at the Lewis B. Ketchum Sports Complex, 119 N. Ash, Chelsea, OK. The second will be July 20 at the Nowata City County Library (west room), 224 S Pine St., Nowata, OK. The third will be on July 27 at the Delaware Community Center, 5100 Tuxedo Blvd., Bartlesville, OK.

The meeting in Bartlesville will be online live. Comments and questions may be sent by email to trustrevisions@delawaretribe.org, and emails sent during the Bartlesville meeting will be addressed at that time.

All Town Hall meetings will start at 11 a.m. Stew, frybread and dessert will be served. Door prizes will be awarded at the end of the meeting. The main prize will be a $50 gas card, one at each meeting. There will be other door prizes as well.

History of the Proposed Changes

Recently proposals have been discussed to reduce the Trust Board to a five-member oversight committee, appointed by the Chief. Two Town Hall meetings were held in September 2012 regarding this idea. Those attending agreed that the Trust Document needed to be revised but the general consensus was to continue to elect the Trust Board members. The Trust Board took those concerns to heart and have developed a proposed revised document. We are presenting this document to the Delaware people for comments, suggestions and directions. Following the July 2013 Town Hall meetings, the Trust Board will consider comments received at the meetings and by mail or email, and make changes.

The following provides some background to help Tribal members in their consideration of this document.

In the 19th century, the Delaware people were moved from their reservation in Kansas to reside in the territory of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with Article II of the Delaware Agreement, dated April 8, 1867. The Delaware Tribe paid a sum of money to the Cherokee Nation in order to preserve their Delaware identity. There was also a payment for land for the people to own. The Delaware Tribe has continued to maintain a governing Council from then to the present.

Congressional Act 83 Stat. 447, 453, of December 26, 1969 appropriated the judgment funds in Dockets 72 and 298 for the Delaware Tribe of Indians. The Delaware people voted to retain 10% of the total funds to be held for tribal operations. It become expedient and necessary for the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to release the 10% Judgment Funds provided for in the Act of Congress dated October 3, 1972, Public Law 92-456, 86 Stat. 762, 25 USC § 1294 (b). Tribal members voted to reserve 10% of the judgment funds and the rest was paid out per capita.

The Delaware Tribe maintained a government-to-government relationship with the United States until May 25, 1979, when the Tribal Council received a letter from the BIA removing the Delaware Tribe from the list of federally recognized tribes. The Delaware Tribe attempted from 1979 to 1989 to get the BIA and Congress to have that decision overturned.

Chief Lewis B. Ketchum met with Cherokee Chief Wilma Mankiller in 1990, and it was agreed that the Delaware Tribe was entitled to the 10% reserved for tribal operations from the judgment funds awarded by Congress in 1972. Both the Secretary of the Interior and the Cherokee Nation agreed not to interfere with the administration or use of these funds once an entity was established to administer the funds. The Delaware Tribe, working under a grant from Administration for Native Americans, developed the Trust Document. The document provided the powers to re-

The Delaware people, in an election conducted by the Secretary of the Interior, ratified the Trust Document on September 21, 1990. The first Trust Board was seated in early 1991. Their first task was to develop a Master Plan to administer the funds for the benefit of the tribe. (The current Trust Document and Master Plan are on the Tribe’s website at www.delawaretribe.org.) The Master Plan was approved in the summer of 1991 and the Trust Board received the first funds on October 1, 1991.

In the eyes of the Delaware people the Constitution and Tribal Council continued to be our governing body and document. In 1996 Assistant Secretary of the Interior Ada Deer rescinded the action of the 1979 letter, putting the Delaware Tribe back on the list of federally recognized tribes. The Cherokee Nation quickly filed a lawsuit against the Department of the Interior and Assistant Secretary Deer. The Tulsa District Court ruled in favor of the DOI and the Delaware Tribe in 2002. The case then went to the 10th Circuit Court in Denver, and in November 2004 the earlier ruling was overturned. The Tribe was again removed from the list of federally recognized tribes.

The Tribe applied for recognition under the Oklahoma Indian Welfare Act of 1934 (OIWA). Before the BIA would approve the OIWA application, a Memorandum of Agreement with the Cherokee Nation was required. The two tribes worked out an agreement basically requiring the Delaware Tribe to get approval from the Cherokee Nation before applying for grants, to not apply for any grants that the Cherokee Nation received funds for, to agree not to put land in Trust, and to forego developing gaming within the Cherokee Nation. Most monies received by the Delaware Tribe would go through the Cherokee Nation, though any Delaware tribal activities outside Cherokee jurisdiction would not come under the MOA.

The BIA conducted a Secrecy Election in July 2009 to ratify the Delaware Constitution, and by August the Delaware Tribe was back on the list of federally recognized tribes. The Delaware Tribe has moved forward rapidly since that time.

Now that the Delaware Tribe has a direct relationship with the Federal Government, the Trust Document needs to be updated and clarified.

In 1990 the Delaware Tribe needed a way to fund its daily operations; that is not the situation today. In light of that the Trust Document needs to be revised. The Trust Board has been operating under two documents, the Trust Document and Master Plan, which has caused confusion. The proposed revised document will combine them into one.

The proposed revisions clearly recognize the Chief and Delaware Tribal Council as the governing body. The Delaware Constitution is the governing document. The only authority the Trust Board has is to administer and protect the Trust Funds and any other funds assigned by the Delaware people and/or the Delaware Tribal Council. It is my wish that the Trust Board and Tribal Council may work together for the benefit of our people.

The Delaware people adopted the Trust Board and Trust Document to administer and protect the judgment funds, set up programs with the funds to assist Delaware people, to promote Delaware culture, and more. The Supreme Authority of the Delaware Tribe of Indians is vested in the tribal members. The Chief and Tribal Council is the governing body elected by the people. The Trust Board elected by the Delaware people is tasked with administering the judgment funds.

How the Trust Board fits in the Tribe’s organizational chart is a little vague. Should the Trust Board be under the direct supervision of the Tribal Council, or on an even plane with the Council? Should the Trust Board send reports to the Tribal Council? Should the Council be able to overrule Trust Board decisions regarding the funds or programs? This decision rests with the Delaware people.

So here is a summary of the changes to the Trust Document that we propose.

Proposed Trust Document Revisions

ARTICLE I – AUTHORITY

The Trust Board’s duty is to administer judgment funds, existing or future, donations, grants, fundraisers etc. as directed by the Delaware people. The Trust programs operate on the annual interest earned by investments. Each year 10% of the interest is returned to the principal.

The Trust Board and Trust programs will make an annual report to General Council instead of conducting a separate meeting than Tribal Council.

Each Trust program will submit an annual budget to the Treasurer, then with assistance from Accounting, will prepare an overall budget. In the current Trust Document, the people must vote on the annual budget. Any budget presented for a vote in November cannot be actual, it must be estimated. Currently the budget is estimated based on the first six months of investment earnings and doubled to get the budget total. In the proposed document (Article I F number 10 B), the budget will be presented to the Delaware people on the website and in the DNS as soon as all financial reports have been received and the budget prepared. This should be completed by February or March.

The Trust Board’s fiscal year is January 1 to December 31, presenting the budget in January will give an accurate financial picture.

ARTICLE III - PROGRAM PLAN

This is where the provisions of the Master Plan have been inserted. Most of this article mirrors the current master plan.

ARTICLE III -E - PROGRAM PLAN DISTRIBUTION

There are changes in this section. In the original plan the committees of Economic Development and Land Management have been replaced with Elders and Veterans Committees. Both of these committees will receive 5% of the annual interest. The funds left in Economic Development will be divided among the remaining committees. Land Management is largely a tribal function. Oversight of the cemeteries will transfer to Cultural Preservation. Community Services will increase to 30%, Education to 25%, Tribal Operations 15%, and Reinvestment 10%. Tribal Operation funds will go to the Accounting department to pay for Board expenses such as staff support, accounting support and other routine expenses. All funds allotted to Reinvestment are kept in the principal to grow the funds.

ARTICLE III - F – PROGRAM PARAMETERS

This section explains each program.

ARTICLE IV – ELECTION OF TRUST BOARD

The article remains essentially the same except for E, changing the election to even years to coincide with the Tribal Council Election. This is an effort to save Trust Board money. The Trust Board will pay half instead of all the election expenses.

ARTICLE V – REMOVAL FROM OFFICE

This article adds definition to the allowed reasons for an excused absence.

The remainder of the document remains nearly the same as the current document.

At the March 4, 2013 Trust Board meeting Joe Brooks moved to change the Trust Board’s fiscal year (October 1 to September 30) to a calendar year (January 1 to December 31). The motion was approved. This action was taken to eliminate a potential problem arising when the Trust Board changed from a calendar to a fiscal year in 2012. Accounting informed the Board that the changes needed in accounting procedures would require rewriting their software and the cost would be up to $1,600. The Board decided this expense would not be necessary.

The Trust Board has decided not to put Trust Board candidates on the November 2013 ballot. The only item will be the revised Trust Document. Joe Brooks presented a motion at the June 3, 2013 Trust Board meeting to extend the terms of the Trust Board members by one year to accommodate changing the election year from odd to even. Board members who would be up for election in 2015 will not have to run until 2016. The motion was approved with one no vote.

There are other issues that have not yet been resolved.

1. Should the Trust Board be elected by the people or appointed by the Chief and Tribal Council?

2. Should Tribal Council members serve on the Trust Board also?

3. Should there be a provision in the Trust Document and or the Constitution allowing or prohibiting someone from serving on both bodies?

4. Should the Tribe hire an outside vote-counting company using machines to count the votes? Or should the Tribal Election Board handle all aspects of an election, including counting the votes by hand?
5. Should tribal members be required to request absentee ballots? Or should every voter receive a ballot in the mail?

These are just a few questions to consider. There are likely to be more as you read the document.

I urge all tribal members to carefully consider all the proposed changes and please, let us know what you believe is best for the Delaware Tribe. Send your comments to trustrevisions@delawaretribe.org. If you have questions before submitting your comments, you may reach me at 918-521-2770 or vcraddock@delawaretribe.org.

Trust Board Proposed Changes

John Sumpter

My name is John W. Sumpter, Delaware Tribe of Indians Trust Board Member, Vice Chair Cultural Committee, Chair Reinvestment Committee, and Chair Veterans Committee.

Let me first explain that the Trust Board has nothing to do with the governing of our Tribe whatsoever!

One of the most important duties of the Trust Board is to protect Tribal monies. Reinvesting 10% of the interest back to the principal allowing our Tribal monies to grow; administering the rest of the interest monies among the various programs and committees as stated in the Trust Document and Master Plan. Tribal Operations, Cultural Preservation, Community Services, and Education are just a few of those programs.

Here are a few of the proposed changes:

1. Increasing Tribal Operations from 10 to 15%.
2. Doing away with Land Management and Economic Development since those duties were taken over by the Tribal Council and the Delaware Enterprise Authority (DEA).
3. Revising the budget to include new line items for the Elders Committee and the Veteran’s Committee. The line items will fund both committee programs. We need to recognize the valuable knowledge and contributions that our Elders and Veterans have contributed to the Delaware Tribe.
4. Another proposed change is to have Trust Board elections coincide with Tribal Council elections to save money on election costs, but in order to do that, the Trust Board would have to hold off the Trust Board election this year and have it with the Tribal Council election next year.

These are but a few of the changes that are necessary to bring our Trust Document and Master Plan up to date.

I urge you to study the changes carefully; they will be posted on the Delaware Tribe website (www.delawaretribe.org). Attend the town hall meetings and let us know your thoughts.

Workshops and Town Hall Meetings

The Trust Board workshops have been extensive and the proposed changes have been well thought out, but we still need outside input. To get this input from the tribal members, the Trust Board has scheduled three town hall meetings (Cheyenne July 13th, Nowata July 20th and Bartlesville July 27th).

Please know this, the people’s vote created the Trust Board, Trust Document, Master Plan and only the people’s vote can do away with them.

To be or not to be...

Elected or appointed...

Bonnie Jo Griffith

Your Delaware Tribe of Indians Trust Board will be presenting, for approval by referendum vote, a new Trust Document of the Delaware Tribe of Indians. The entire proposed document can be found at www.delawaretribe.org and also reprinted in this issue of the DIN.

As one of the newer members of this Board I feel honored to be part of this proposed positive change for our tribe. The vote for this change will be held Saturday, November 2, 2013. I urge all voting age members of the Delaware Tribe of Indians to participate and let their voice be heard.

Last fall the Tribal Council and the Trust Board worked jointly on a new document but failed to reach an agreement on changes, most noticeably how Trust Board members are selected to serve. The Trust Board is in unanimous agreement that you as tribal members should have the right to elect those that oversee the four million (+) dollars in trust funds. After reading the joint proposal from last fall it appears the main point of contention is that document called for Trust Board members to be appointed by the Tribal Council. My feelings are that you, as a tribal member, have the right and should be given the opportunity to elect the Trust Board members as is the process at the present time. As proposed, should a member of the Tribal Council, or anyone they might have appointed, choose to run for Trust Board they have the same opportunity as all other tribal members. By keeping the Board as an elected Board each member would be eligible to run for re-election every four years. At that time the People of the Delaware Tribe of Indians have the right to re-elect or replace the Board member. A Tribal Council-appointed Board member could possibly remain on the Board long after the majority of the Delaware Tribe of Indians desire to have them removed. You need to have a voice.

The money in trust belongs to “we the people” of the Delaware Tribe of Indians, not to the Trust Board nor to the Council. The Tribal Council of the Delaware Tribe of Indians is tasked with the operation of the tribe, NOT the Trust Board. The Trust Board has no desire to run the tribe and totally agrees that those functions are, need to be, and should be, the responsibility of the Tribal Council.

As you read through the proposed document you should also note that it includes changes to the voting process. The new document will require that ALL Trust Board elections be held by referendum vote. This would require ballots be sent to all voting age members of the tribe who have valid addresses on file. The process of requiring tribal members to request an absentee ballot concerns the Board so we are asking your help in eliminating it. The Board's concern is that if a tribal member has to request a ballot (the time constraints of the call for election, candidates filing period, printing of ballots, receiving absentee ballot requests, mailing the ballots out, and receiving them back in time for them to be included in the count) there may be a number of tribal members whose voices will not be heard. We as a Board feel that any tribal member who us eligible to vote, and so desires, should be afforded that opportunity.

Another change in the proposed document is that Trust Board members be elected in even-numbered years instead of odd-numbered years as is presently the case. This would move the Trust Board elections to coincide with the Tribal Council elections beginning in 2014. At that time the savings from sharing the election expense with the Council would have an impact on offsetting the cost of mailing ballots to all voters. To accomplish this goal, each sitting member of the Trust Board will have their current term extended one year to have it end in an even numbered year.

You may notice in the proposed document that the Tribal Committees under the guidance of the Trust Board would be restructured. Two new committees will be created to better serve our people: an Elders Committee and a Veterans Committee. Our intent is to better provide services to the two honored groups of our tribe.

The Trust Board will be hosting town hall meetings in Chelsea, Nowata, and Bartlesville during the month of July. One purpose of these meetings is to inform our members of all details of this proposal. The main reason for these get-togethers though is to get your input. This proposal is a working document.

I ask that you look carefully at our proposal. Should you have questions, concerns, or comments please call, text, or email me.

A Counterpoint

Councilwoman Annette Ketchum

The Trust Board members have been working on a revision of the obsolete Trust Document. My concern is that it still needs revisions to take out any articles that are already in the Constitution. It is not necessary to have a pseudo-Constitution, which in my opinion, causes confusion.

Now that the Tribe has had its Federal Recognition restored, the only purpose of the Trust Document is to oversee the Distribution Plan for the social services programs in the plan. Additional, redundant, unnecessary, and confusing information will lead to the document being turned down at the polls.

Since the tribal staff and accounting department are quite adequate in carrying out the function of the Distribution Plan and since the annual budget is also prepared by the accounting department, the only job of the Trust Board members is to be an oversight committee, although the Tribe has built in checks and balances for oversight. Actually, if we continue with a Trust Board (since the Arvest Management is the actual trustee), I think we may be delaying dissolving both the Trust Document and Trust Board out of sentimentality. Both are of no further use to the operations of the Tribe.

The reasons it is no longer needed:
1. We have our Federal Recognition.
2. The Board is not the Trustee of the judgment funds.
3. The staff and accounting department do the work of the Board.
4. The Delaware Citizens serve on the programs’ committees and can chair those program committees.

Another glaring problem that exists with the Trust Board is that only three members who are currently serving are elected. Four are appointments.

So, be sure to attend the Town Hall meetings this month. I would like to hear good reasons for keeping the Trust Board, since I don’t believe there are sound, long-term reasons for keeping it.

From the Desk of Verna Crawford,
Tribal Council Secretary

The Tribe will be moving some of the Tribal operations to Kansas. Why? As long as the Tribe limits the Tribal jurisdiction to Oklahoma and the Cherokee Nation, it cannot provide more and better services to the Delaware people. Presently the Tribe cannot apply for grants or services unless the Cherokee Nation approves.

Having a jurisdictional area in Kansas will allow the Delaware Tribe to provide services such as housing, health, education, economic development, jobs and more.

The Tribe is currently preparing a grant application for planning to develop a charter school. The school would be located in Kansas to avoid conflict with or oversight by the Cherokee Nation. The school will combine academic with cultural instruction and K thru 12th grade. The grant is for three years to do the planning.

Some of the information needed for the grant application include: the interest of students in attending the school, and whether qualified Delaware teachers in Kansas are interested in teaching there. Let us know your thoughts.

We Want Your Feedback: Possible Charter School

The Delaware Tribe is considering starting a Charter School in Kansas. The curriculum would include grades K thru 12 and academic and cultural instruction.

We want feedback about the level of interest:
1. Would you send your students to a Delaware Charter School?
2. Delaware or Native American teachers: would you consider working at a Delaware Charter School?
3. Teachers: do you have Kansas accreditation or would you acquire it?

We Want Your Feedback: Service Needs of Kansas Tribal Members

As discussed over the last year or more, the Delaware Tribe is working to serve the needs of tribal members in Kansas.

If you live in the proposed Kansas service area, we want your input:

1. Do you need housing assistance?
2. Do you need medical assistance?
3. Do you need education assistance?
4. What are you job/professional skills?

Please send feedback to Verna Crawford, Delaware Tribal Council Secretary, at vcrawford@delawaretribe.org or 170 NE Barbara, Bartlesville, OK 74006.

Remember: We Need Your Current Address!

Don’t forget to send us any changes to the address of you or your family so we can mail you an election ballot!!

Dedication of the Social Services Building, May 22, 2013

On Wednesday, May 22, the Delaware Tribe of Indians proudly officially opened its new Social Services Building at 166 NE Barbara on the Tribe’s Bartlesville campus. Former chief Dee Ketchum performed the smoke-off ceremony, after which Chief Pechonick and the other members of the Tribal Council were joined by Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce officials for the ribbon-cutting.

We invite tribal members and others to visit this new facility, which includes our Housing, Social Services, Education, and Environmental Programs as well as the Library, Museum, and Archives.

Top, Dee Ketchum conducts the smoke-off ceremony; Chief Pechonick cuts the ribbon. Bottom, part of the gathering for the Open House; our new Memorial Garden north of the pond across the street from the Social Services building. Our thanks to tribal employee Gina Roth and her son Trey for their hard work getting it set up.

The funds not apportioned to the Absentee Delaware of Western Oklahoma (aka. Delaware Nation) were placed to the credit of the Delaware Tribe in the United States Treasury and were to be administered as follows: 90 percent of the funds were distributed in equal shares to each person enrolled pursuant to subsection 2(c) (1), and 10 percent remained to the credit of the Tribe in the United States Treasury, and was designated to be advanced, expended, invested or reinvested for any purpose that may be authorized by the entity as described in this document.

Tribal Member Presents Art Show

Jacqueline Lynn Moody-McDonald presented her Bachelor of Fine Arts Thesis Show, at Missouri Southern State University, Spiva Gallery. This exhibition “Abuse and Neglect” consists of life-sized ceramic sculptures of children. The show opened on May 6th, with the closing reception on May 10th from 5:30 to 8:00 in the Missouri Southern State University Campus, Spiva Gallery. It is located in the Fine Arts Complex at the corner of Newman and Duquesne, Joplin Missouri.

Mrs. McDonald grew up in Joplin, Missouri, married, and left the area for 40 years, relocating to pursue a career at the University of Miami Medical School in Coral Gables, Florida, as an International Meeting planner and administrator over the residency program in surgery. She and her husband returned to southwest Missouri after retirement and Mrs. McDonald decided to complete her degree in Art at Missouri Southern State University four years ago. Initially wanting to study drawing and painting she soon found three-dimensional art was more her calling and therefore, sought Ceramic Sculpture for her medium.

Some of her recent achievements include being a participant and core artist with the Spiva Art Center on the upcoming project “Artworkers: Creativity across America,” funded by the National Endowment for the Arts. She also participated in “The Phoenix Rising,” Phoenix Fired Arts Mural on 16th and Main; The Joplin Mural on 15th and Main; and the Jupiter Florida Lighthouse Mural in Jupiter, Florida.

Mrs. McDonald is recognized by the Bureau of Indian Affairs as a Native American Artist of the Delaware Tribe. She also has had the privilege to work with some of the most notable artist in the area as well as in Florida. Her accomplishments and interests are varied but she is actively pursuing children’s issues with her thesis exhibition “Abuse and Neglect.”

Editor’s note: Chief Pechonick and Councilwoman Ketchum attended the exhibit on May 6.

Art passed away in 1985 and on February 13, 1988, Virginia married Ernie Harkins. They continued the farming and ranching operation and enjoyed a number of years of retirement, travelling and also spent many evenings of country dancing.

After Ernie’s death in 2006, Virginia continued the farming operation with the help of close friends and neighbors which enabled her to spend her final years entertaining family and friends on the farm where she moved to as a bride in 1940, over seventy two years!

She was an inspiration and encouragement to everyone and although we have released her to go be with her Savior, she will be missed by all who knew her.

Funeral services for Virginia are 11:00 A.M., Thursday, May 16, 2013 at the Benjamin Futral Service Chapel with Pastor Richard Peckman officiating. Interment will follow at Martin Cemetery in Childers. Online condolences may be left at www.honoringmemories.com. Memorials in Virginia’s name may be made to the 1033 Wheelchair Van.

Tribal Organizational Development Moves Forward

Jenifer Pechonick

The Tribal Council recognized the need for organizational development throughout the various departments earlier this year. Some of our identified needs (out of a huge list of priorities) include: DFMS 8(a) certification; follow-up on contacts made a conferences such as RES; staff development including effective staff meetings, improving internal communication, review of job descriptions; effective time and task management; avoiding duplication of work; process analysis of each department for maximum effectiveness; review of all policies and procedures to have current documented policies and procedures for all areas; developing a New Hire Manual; training on quarterly and annual reports identify potential 638 programs; meeting with various BIA officials to discuss expanding 638 service area into Kansas; meeting with Cherokees and BIA to secure direct funding of Aid-to-Tribal Government monies; reviewing the Housing program, formula area, and sub-recipient agreement with Cherokee; working with the Tribal Court on needs, training, codes; working with Child Support Enforcement for necessary renovations to Caney building to meet the security needs of a comprehensive program; creating a Memorial Garden; and funding and maintenance needs for the Boys and Girls Club of Chelsea.

We are happy to report that work on many of these items is underway! In order to assist with this huge undertaking, the Tribe contracted with Gray and Gray Consultants. Gray and Gray is an Osage-owned consulting firm made up of Jim and Libbi Gray (Jim Gray is a former chief of the Osage Tribe, and Libbi is an MBA with extensive experience in organizational review and training). Their combined background and work experience made them an asset in many areas.

In the first two months, they have accomplished quite a lot. Libbi, along with several staff members, are reviewing the Tribal Code book, which was put together in the 1980s, to make sure it is complete and to add other proposed codes that will be presented to the Tribal Council in the coming months. She has simultaneously been working with another team to develop and improve internal communication between staff and Council, and between staff members themselves. The Enrollment Department has been an area of focus and has resulted in improved knowledge of our enrollment software, improved workspace, staffing changes (adding a second full-time employee to the department), and hopefully streamlined procedures for handling the large volume of work for a large tribe such as ours. Libbi has worked with several staff members one-on-one to help address concerns or design improved processes. She has provided training in the use of Microsoft Outlook (especially its calendar functions) and has helped design an “intranet” to make the sharing of information more efficient. The staff has been appreciative of their efforts.

Jim has assisted on a state and federal level in development of intertribal and federal agency relations and works with the Tribal Council on preliminary strategic planning. Gray and Gray undertake many specific tasks each week which they document and report to their various “project sponsors” on the Council weekly and monthly.
Minutes of the Delaware Trust Board, March 2013-May 2013

Monday, March 4, 2013
Social Services
Conference Room

Respectfully submitted by Jana Roth, Special Asst to the Chief

Chairman Chet Brooks called the March meeting to order on March 4, 2013 at 4:10 p.m. Joe Brooks gave the invocation.

Chairman Chet Brooks called roll, those present were DeAnn Ketchum, Homer Scott, Chairman Chet Brooks, John Sumpter, and Joe Brooks. Secretary Verna Crawford was absent due to illness. Cass Smith resigned at the Special meeting, three weeks earlier.

Chairman Chet Brooks welcomed guests and invited anyone present to address the Board.

Joe Brooks moved to approve the agenda. Homer Scott seconded. Motion carried with 5 yea.

Minutes of Previous Meeting

Joe Brooks moved to approve the Minutes of February 4, 2013 with no corrections. Homer Scott seconded the motion. Motion carried with 5 yea.

Treasurer’s Report

DeAnn Ketchum noted she had not reviewed the financials. Chairman Brooks stated that Jean Lewis, the CFO, gave a synopsis of the Trust Board financials in January and that the Trust Fund was at $3,873,663.14 in January. Homer Scott noted that Fund was moving up and that was the main thing. Chairman Chet Brooks asked if anyone had any questions regarding the Financials.

John Sumpter moved to approve the Financials. Joe Brooks seconded the motion. Motion carried with 5 yea.

Economic Development Report

Joe Brooks stated there was no report because the DEA takes care of the Tribe’s economic development.

Community Services Report

Verna Crawford was absent so Homer Scott stated the Community Services Committee met and approved 37 educational scholarships in February and 10 or 12 tribal assistance applications. Joe Brooks thanked the Community Services Committee and the Trust Board on behalf of his daughter, who received assistance for nursing school.

Curtis Zunigha reported on the cemetery project. He stated that the clearing of the property was under way and significant progress had been made. He stated that after this phase was completed the Cultural Preservation Committee would be consulted. Curtis Zunigha added the cemetery was located SE of the Copan about one half mile above the Caney River (which has flooded the cemetery several times). Zunigha noted this is a long-term restoration project and that he would put together a report. Annette Ketchum asked how much money had been spent. Zunigha replied about $4000.00 has been paid to Barnes American Tree Service and that the Tribe had received a discount because Terry Barnes is a Tribal member who wanted to work on the project out of respect to our Delaware ancestors buried there. Zunigha also discussed plans for restoration of the head stones at the cemetery. Furthermore, Zunigha noted that some of the money for the project could come from Cultural Preservation and some could come out of Land Management. Zunigha stated that as the project progresses he will seek the guidance and direction of the Historical Preservation Committee, the Cultural Preservation Committee, Land Management, and the descendants of those buried at the cemetery.

Joe Brooks asked about a Two Mile Cemetery restoration effort. Zunigha replied that any overgrown trees would be cut back. Brooks asked Mr. Zunigha to check on that cemetery. Zunigha added that the head stones at that cemetery will also be addressed in the future and that he had spoken with Windle’s Rock shop to inquire about the cost to restore the headstones.

Bonnie Jo Griffith stated that she was on the cemetery committee. Verna Artherton asked if people could get into the cemetery and John Sumpter replied yes.

DeAnn Ketchum asked about getting ground penetration radar from Dr. Brice Obermeyer. Zunigha stated that it could be leased using cultural preservation funds and suggested the Ruby Cranan book might be used to find where “they” are and “who” they are. He also stated that funding could be provided by the Trust Fund, the Preservation fund and possibly fundraising efforts.

Joe Brooks requested the brush pile that is now floating in the pond be removed, as it was not anchored and feared it would eventually block the drain and cause flooding. There was some discussion on whether or not the brush was left to make a fish habitat. Charles Randall suggested that the state might stock the pond but Joe Brooks said “no” because then the pond would be open for non-tribal members to fish. It was also suggested that a “No Fishing” sign be posted. Zunigha stated he would be addressing the Tribal Council this evening to request the brush be removed as soon as possible.

John Sumpter stated that someone (a non-Tribal member, according to Leslie Fall-Leaf) had called him and asked about the Silver Lake Cemetery and he referred them to Leslie Fall-Leaf. It was also mentioned that although the Tribe does not own the cemetery, many Delaware people are buried there but he had heard that it is now full. Annette Ketchum asked if the Tribe requested it, the county wouldn’t allow anyone outside of the Tribe to be buried there, unless they already had family buried there. Bonnie Jo Griffith stated that the county mows the Silver lake Cemetery.

Bruce Martin stated that in 2005, he was told there were only 2 or 3 plots left. Ms. Griffith stated that she was on the cemetery committee and asked why decisions regarding cemeteries where being made here?

Reinvestment Report

John Sumpter asked what Chairman Brooks wanted to do about hiring attorney Michael McBride. Chairman Brooks replied that he had called on Wednesday or Thursday and was informed it would take a $1000 retainer to review the situation. Annette Ketchum added that the attorney charges approximately $400 per hour. John Sumpter stated that a financial attorney is more expensive but that the Trust document papers are way out of date. Joe Brooks stated that he wondered if there was something better than Arvest Bank to keep the Trust Fund. Sumpter stated that Arvest was a safe and sound investment but the Trust Fund document needs to be “modernized.” Annette Ketchum asked if Jean Lewis, the Tribe’s CFO could look at it. Joe stated that Lewis wasn’t qualified to decide whether the Trust Funds were safe or not and the bank refuses to give an opinion on it.

DeAnn Ketchum asked when was the last time that it was analyzed and the reply was that it was last analyzed back when Raymond Cline was the Trust Board Chair.

John Sumpter stated that he had asked the accountant about it but the accountant told him he would need a financial attorney to look at it. Joe Brooks said he was concerned about the cost of an attorney and that he wants to know:

1. Is the Trust money safe and if the Tribe gets sued are the Trust monies safe? And,
2. What do we need to do to modernize?

Joe Brooks made a motion that the Chairman ask the financial attorney:

1. How much would charge to review and make sure the Trust Funds were safe from a lawsuit. And,

2. The maximum number of hours he would need to answer if the monies are safe.

No action was made on the motion.

Joe Brooks made a motion for Chet Brooks and John Sumpter to speak to the attorney. No action was made on the motion.

Chet Brooks said that the attorney had told him that reviewing the Trust Document and the Constitution wouldn’t take that much time but if we get sued it will take a lot of hours.

Joe Brooks requested the attorney be asked:

1. How much does the attorney charge per hour. And,

2. That the attorney state the projected number of hours in the contract. Furthermore, the attorney should not go over a set number of hours.

John Sumpter noted it should be sent as a packaged bundle with the Trust Document, the Constitution, and the contract with Arvest. Annette Ketchum asked if the government didn’t guarantee its safety up to a certain amount? Sumpter stated the main issue is the old paperwork. Annette Ketchum stated that the Tribal attorney said her firm has access to specialized attorneys. Sumpter asked how much the attorney would charge per hour and what would be the maximum number of hours for the attorney to review the bank, Trust Document, and Constitution. Chairman Brooks asked if the Tribe would have any problem asking Amanda Proctor? Curtis Zunigha stated that Ms. Proctor charges $150 per hour with no retainer.

Joe Brooks made a motion to call the lawyers and Amanda Proctor and ask how much per hour do they charge, what would be the projected number of hours to review the Trust Document, Constitution, the contract with Arvest, and to evaluate whether the Trust Fund monies were safe. Motion seconded by John Sumpter. Motion carried with 5 years.

Tribal Operations Report

No committee meeting because the money is used to take care of the audit for the Tribe and Trust.

Cultural Preservation Report

The meeting was held last month. Reminder of the upcoming Stomp Dance on March 23, in Chelsea at 6 p.m. Bruce Martin is coordinating with the Boys and Girls Club in Chelsea. He will also be taking the van which allows for 15 passengers for anyone who would like a ride to and from the event.

Joe Brooks stated that he told Pat Fitzgerald, who prints a newspaper called “The Links” about the Stomp Dance and he is going to run a free advertisement for the event weekly till March 23. Joe Brooks requested that Chairman Brooks call Mr. Fitzgerald to thank him for the free advertisement. Joe Brooks added that the paper is offered for free across northeastern Oklahoma. Annette Ketchum requested Mr. Fitzgerald’s contact information in order to advertise events for the Bartlesville Indian Women’s Club.

Unfinished Business

None.

New Business

Cass Smith resigned approximately three weeks ago at a Special Meeting so there is an open seat on the Trust Board. Tribal member Nicky Michaels has requested to fill any vacant trust Board seat.

Chairman Brooks noted that according to the Trust Board document, if someone resigns from the trust Board, the seat will be filled at the next Trust Board meeting. So the resignation is accepted at this meeting and then the opening is advertised prior to being filled at the next meeting.

John Sumpter motioned to accept the resignation of Cass Smith and to advertise for the open seat. Joe Brooks seconded. Motion was passed with 5 years.

Curtis Zunigha suggested the open seat be advertised in the Delaware Indian News next month. But it was mentioned that it would be too late because the delivery date would be after the April 1 meeting date.

Chairman Brooks stated that Verna Crawford had told him she was approximately half-way through with the changes that were discussed at the last Special Meeting and she suggested arranging another Special Meeting. Curtis Zunigha suggested an article regarding the revision of the Trust Document be published in the April issue and in July placing a notice for the people to vote in the November election. Chairman Brooks stated that he believed it would be ready for print in the July edition. Zunigha stated he was in favor of extending an election calendar for holding elections every two years and that we didn’t have to wait until November.

John Sumpter asked to set a date for the next Special workshop. Chairman Brooks asked if Mondays were acceptable. A tentative date was set for 1:00 p.m., two weeks from today, on March 18 in the Social Services Conference Room.

Chairman Brooks asked for further new business. None.

Curtis Zunigha asked to make a statement regarding the new Social Services building. He stated that Housing, Child Welfare, EPA, and the Library and Archives are now located in the building. He also pointed out that Conference Room could be scheduled for any meetings. He noted that future Tribal Council and Trust Board meetings would be held upstairs in Forsythe Hall following the completion of construction.

Chairman Chet Brooks moved to adjourn. Joe Brooks seconded the motion. With 5 years, Chairman Brooks declared the meeting adjourned at approximately 5:30 p.m.

Community Center

Respectfully submitted by Verna Crawford, Trust Board Secretary

Chairman Chet Brooks called the April 1, 2013 Trust Board meeting to order at 4:15 p.m.

Homer Scott gave the invocation.

Secretary called the roll; those present were Chairman Chet Brooks, John Sumpter, Joe Brooks, Homer Scott and Secretary Verna Crawford. DeAnn Ketchum was absent.

Chairman Chet Brooks welcomed guests. He invited anyone who would like to address the Board to do so.

Guests, Tribal officials and employees present included Rick L. Barnes, Chief Paula Pechonick, Dee Ketchum, Councilman Nathan H. Young, Jana Roth, Nicky Kay Michael, Mr. Michael, Judge Charles Randall, Mary Randall, Councilwoman Janifer Brown, Jean Lewis, Bruce Martin, Bonnie Jo Griffith, C-ce Biggoose, Councilwoman Annette Ketchum, Greg Brown and Business Manager Curtis Zunigha.

Verna Crawford moved to approve the agenda with amendment to fill the Trust Board vacancy after approval of minutes. Homer Scott seconded the motion. Motion carried with four yes.

Minutes of Previous Meeting

Joe Brooks moved to approve the minutes of March 4, 2013 with corrections. Homer Scott seconded the motion.

Discussion: Chairman Brooks stated the only mistake he had noticed was in approving motions. He said that since the Chairman only votes in the case of a tie so the correct motion approvals should read four yes not five.

Motion carried with three yes and one abstention (Verna Crawford).

Chairman Brooks stated that there was a vacancy on the Board with the resignation of Cass Smith and according to the Trust Document requires the seat to be filled at the next Board meeting after the seat becomes vacant. He announced that he had received four requests to be considered for the vacancy, Nicky Michael, Bonnie Jo Griffith, Mary Longhorn and Phil Oyler. Nicky Michael and Bonnie Jo Griffith were present. Candidates are required to send a letter of request to be considered and to be present at the meeting to be considered for vacant positions. Therefore only Ms. Michael and Ms. Griffith could be considered.

Chairman Brooks asked the two candidates if they would like to address the Board. He called on Nicky Michael first.

Ms. Michael introduced herself as a mother having a PHD and teaching at Rogers and several other hats. She stated that she came to the Board to address her interest in the vacant seat and why she felt she was qualified for the position. She stated that she has worked for several other tribes and handles the Lenapeowski Foundation. This foundation is geared for the benefit of children. She felt she has the experience to manage...

our trust money. She said she had ideas how to use them, grow them, address them with more professionalism; there are numerous ways to do that. She mentioned a new Tribal program called 7871. Tribes are putting some of their assets in. She said this program is kind of like non-profits for Tribes and to her the trust monies are non-profit, because we are serving Tribal members with them. Other things we could be doing are student and youth programs. She felt like she could bring a lot to the table in this area. She stated she also has a PHD in History, which included research with the Tribe and our relationship with the Cherokee Nation.

She assured the Board she would be able to attend most of the meetings including committee meetings and workshop.

Ms. Griffith told the Board that she was retired. She is a mother, grandmother and great grandmother. She stated that she has thirty years experience in the corporate world. She spent some time in accounting, took care of accounts payable, but most of the time she worked in marketing and was in charge of about a million dollar budget. She prepared and submitted reports, traveled extensively across the US. She stated she knows the importance of return on investments. She said she could attend any meetings required. She commented that she has the time, energy and desire to serve the Tribe. She felt she had experience that would balance the lack of the formal education possessed by Ms. Michael.

Chairman Brooks called for the Board members to vote on paper distributed by the Secretary. There were two votes for each person and Chairman Brooks had to break the tie. He thanked both for their interest in serving the Tribe and stated it was very difficult for him to vote, because both ladies were equally qualified. Brooks broke the tie by voting for Bonnie Jo Griffith, the elder.

Chairman Brooks gave Ms. Griffith the oath of office and she took her seat at the table.

Treasurer’s Report
Verna Crawford moved to accept the Treasurer’s report pending audit, seconded by Joe Brooks.

Discussion: Chairman Brooks commented that the balance has increased by $29,000.

Joe Brooks stated, for the benefit of the audience, that the principal is at $3,902,151.80.

Motion carried with four yes and one abstention, (Bonnie Jo Griffith).

Joe Brooks suggested hiring Amanda Proctor, the Tribal Attorney, to give a legal opinion on the status of the safety of the Trust Money.

Verna Crawford moved to direct Chairman Brooks to hire Attorney Amanda Proctor for up to six hours to review the Trust Document and structure and advise the Board of our possibilities open to the Board, the cost to be divided among the Committees based on percent allocated to them. With a contract if needed, Joe Brooks seconded the motion. Motion carried with four yes.

New Business
Judge Rick Barnes addressed the Board with the suggestion to hold at least one meeting in Caney, Kansas. He felt it would be appropriate since Caney is designated as our Kansas Tribal headquarters.

Joe Brooks said that would be fine if we hold one in Chelsea also. Comments from others that to be fair, a meeting should also be held in Nowata.

Bonnie Jo Griffith moved to hold the May 6, 2013 Trust Board meeting at the Caney, Kansas building at 3 p.m. Joe Brooks seconded the motion. Motion carried with five yes.

Joe Brooks stated that he would not be at the May meeting. He would be on vacation and that his absence should be unexcused.

Joe Brooks moved that the absence of DeAnn Ketchum be unexcused. John Sumpter seconded the motion.

Discussion: Chairman Brooks told the Board that DeAnn had sent him an email that she would not be at the meeting due to work. She also suggested that the Board meet quarterly, not monthly.

Chairman Brooks stated that is not a possibility, because the Trust Document requires the Board to meet on the first Monday every month.

Motion carried with five yes.

Verna Crawford moved to adjourn. Joe Brooks seconded the motion. Motion carried with five yes. The meeting adjourned at 6:10 pm.

Treasurer’s Report

John Sumpter moved to accept the Treasurer’s report pending audit seconded by Verna Crawford.

Discussion: Chairman Brooks stated that DeAnn Ketchum was the treasurer. Brooks noted that as of March 30, the principal balance was $3,955,299.75.

Bonnie Jo Griffith commented that at the April meeting Joe Brooks reported the balance at $3,902,151.80. That is an increase of over $50,000, at that rate we could go over $4 million by next meeting, Bonnie stated.

Motion carried with four yes.

Verna Crawford moved to approve Resolution 2003 to set the Trust Board fiscal year to the calendar year. Bonnie Jo Griffith seconded the motion.

Discussion: The Trust Board fiscal year was the calendar year (January 1 to December 31). The Trust Board changed that to coincide with the Tribal Council year of October 1 to September 30. REINVESTMENT: CHAIR JOHN SUMPTER

Attorney Amanda Proctor and Arvest Bank representative Scott Thompson met with members of the committee and Trust Board to discuss what the status of the Trust is. The general consensus is that it is an irrevocable Trust because the Delaware people as a whole owns the money and have designated a plan for the use of it. There still needs to be an official determination before everyone will be comfortable with this, reported John Sumpter.

TRIBAL OPERATIONS: CHAIR JOE BROOKS

Meets quarterly. No report was given.

Unfinished Business

Secretary Verna Crawford read into the record the Poll Vote to approve Resolution 2013-1 into the record: The resolution is titled: “A resolution of the Trust Board of the Delaware Tribe of Indians support and assistance to the Delaware Museum, Archives and Library project.”

The resolution provides the Delaware Museum, Archives and Library project with $5,000 to purchase products in time for the Powwow. Nancy Sumpter commented that products need to be American and/or Native American made. John Sumpter stated that consignment doesn’t work for the Native craftsmen. It takes a lot of time and material and isn’t feasible for the craftsman. Craftsman may put products in the booth on consignment.

Crawford requested volunteers for working the booth at the Delaware Powwow.

A monthly report will be presented to the board.

New Business

Resolution 2013-02 titled “A Resolution of the Trust Board of the Delaware Tribe of Indians to Identify Designated Officials Approved to Conduct Business with the Office of the Special Trustee for American Indians.”

Bonnie Jo Griffith moved to table the Resolution till next meeting, seconded by Homer Scott. Motion carried with four yes.

Charles Randall suggested that the Resolutions be placed on the website so that if there are questions regarding a previous resolution, it would be easily available, unless the resolution contains confidential information.

John Sumpter moved to accept the resignation of DeAnn Ketchum, seconded by Bonnie Jo Griffith. Motion carried with four yes.

Chairman Brooks stated that the vacancy on the Board would be posted on the Internet regarding the position. The notice will state that applicants must send letter, via mail or email, stating their interest in serving and that they must be present at the June meeting to be considered.

Other Business

John Sumpter moved to make the absence of Joe Brooks unexcused, seconded by Bonnie Jo Griffith. Motion carried with four yes.

Chief Pechonick pointed out the Verna Crawford has been setting in two seats, Assistant Chairman and Secretary, and perhaps the Board should appoint a new secretary. It was noted that a treasurer would need to be appointed at the June meeting.

John Sumpter moved to wait till June to appoint a secretary and treasurer at the June meeting, seconded by Bonnie Jo Griffith. Motion carried with four yes.

Bonnie Jo Griffith stated she had a problem with poll voting. She agreed that the Museum was an emergency because of the need to buy product. But the day after the last meeting she was called to vote on a matter that had been decided at the meeting the day before. Bonnie Jo Griffith said unless it is a real emergency she will not vote on any poll vote.

Emergency will be only matters that cannot wait till next meeting.

Bonnie Jo Griffith moved to have the June meeting at 4 p.m. in the Delaware Tribal Community Center. John Sumpter seconded the motion. Motion carried with four yes.

Adjourn: John Sumpter moved to adjourn seconded by Bonnie Jo Griffith.

Delaware Tribe Environmental Program

Jimmie Johnson

Good day, hope this finds everyone well. The Delaware Tribe Environmental Program has kept pretty busy in the last few months. In April DTEP participated in Operation Clean House sponsored by Washington County and Conoco-Phillips. This event was for the disposal/recycling of household hazardous waste, tires, used motor oil, and this year it included e-recycling (computers, televisions, household electronic devices). DTEP was able to properly dispose of approximately 20 non-working, obsolete computer monitors and televisions that were taking up space at our offices. Along with the e-recycling DTEP participated at the Dewey Fairgrounds Site that accepted used motor oil, anti-freeze, tires, appliances, and scrap metal.

In addition to the e-recycling material that was disposed of during Operation Clean House, DTEP collected other computer equipment that was being stored at the tribal offices in Bartlesville, Chelsea, and Caney Kansas. This equipment included desktop CPU’s, broken keyboards, mouse pointers, adding machines, and desktop printers. All of the equipment collected was non-functional and required disposal. This equipment was then taken to Natural Evolution in Tulsa, a native/female owned electronics recycling company. This project made storage space available at all our office locations and responsibly disposed of non-working electronic equipment.

Along with recycling activities DTEP Director Jimmie Johnson has been drafting the “Delaware Tribe Environmental Protection Act.” This piece of legislation will set federal regulations and environmental laws as a baseline for environmental regulation on any and all lands owned or under the responsibility of the Delaware Tribe of Indians. DTEP is extremely excited to be involved in this project as it will pave the way to expand the environmental program in the future.

For questions, suggestions, or comments for the Delaware Tribe Environmental Program, please feel free to contact Director Jimmie Johnson at jimmiejohnson@delawaretribe.org or (918) 337-6590.

Tribal Manager’s Report

Curtis Zunigha

We’ve had some significant accomplishments during the last three months. Throughout this issue you’ll see stories and photos of our new Social Services Building. It was funded primarily by an Indian Community Development Block Grant (HUD). We now have new offices for Housing, Social Services, Education, and Environmental Programs. The Library/Museum/Archives is also located there. Next door is the Wellness Center with modern exercise equipment and locker rooms.

Coming this summer will be an aqua-therapy pool and a massage therapist. And in the Community Center is the newly enlarged and remodeled kitchen which serves our Elder Nutrition program. Each of these programs and services are staffed by one or more Delaware tribal members. We’re also proud of the new offices for our Chief and Executive Assistant. And just recently several gardens have been planted on the grounds. It’s all capped off by our beautiful new sign as you enter the Bartlesville campus.

With these upgrades, plus maintaining two hundred housing units in four counties, we have a significant investment in Oklahoma. However, our priority is expanding our tribal jurisdiction into Kansas and we’re searching for more land. We’re already providing tribal services to members in 37 different counties there. We have been in substantive discussions with the Bureau of Indian Affairs about contracts to provide more services. An application to place our Caney, KS facility in federal trust status is pending approval. That building houses our Tribal Court, Child Support Enforcement Program, and a tribally-owned company providing maintenance and janitorial services. It’s also the location of Delaware Tribal Financial Services.

In the midst of exercising tribal sovereignty and providing services we also provide professional-grade training to improve the knowledge and skills of our staff. In order to be a true Indian tribal government we also improve our cultural knowledge and skills. Our cultural preservation committee supports local events where language, dancing, singing, and the arts revive our proud heritage. The recent 49th Annual Delaware Powwow at Copan was attended by thousands. Three tribal employees are on the committee. We had a tribal gift shop booth there and the Delaware Enterprise Authority donated rations to campers. A local non-profit “Lenapeowsi” conducts weekly youth and family activities which practice our tribal culture. They meet Thursday evenings at the Delaware Community Center.

We need you to keep in touch with us. Whether you apply for services, get a new membership card, or just change your contact information we have several different ways to connect—phone, email, postal mail, website, or Facebook. We’re proud of our accomplishments and honored to serve our people. Wanishi!

News from the Enrollment Department
Leslie Fall-Leaf

The Tribal Enrollment Department has been undergoing great changes since the last DIN with the kick-off of the Enrollment Department Improvement Project. Though we remain in the same building, the opening of the new Social Services building has allowed us to take over a much larger office space which can also house all of our membership records, offering even greater security to your enrollment information and eliminating the need to run back and forth for file access, which should speed up the process of processing enrollment applications.

We are also in the process of moving Chris Miller full time to our department as an enrollment specialist. You may have met Chris if you have visited our tribal offices recently. He currently mans the reception desk in the Wellness Center.

This will be the first time that the tribe has had a multi-person staff in Enrollment and we have a lot of catching up to do as well as big plans to make things run smoother and more efficiently. We are excited that our department is expanding and improving to meet the needs of our tribal members.

Chris and I recently attended a training seminar specific to our enrollment database software and are very excited to be able to implement the things we learned to streamline and customize the system to meet the needs of the tribe. With two full-time staff members we hope to be able to serve our people in a timelier manner although please keep in mind that the ratio is still nearly 11,000 members to two of us, so please try to be as patient as possible. We are doing our very best to meet your needs and keep everyone up to date.

Due to the transitions going on in our department and a substantial number of current members requiring service, no new members were added in the month of June. However, we have been taking applications, and will continue to accept and process all applications that are received. We are hopeful that the changes being made to the enrollment department will speed things up.

You may download the applications for new enrollment as well as for photo ID membership cards from the tribal website at www.delawaretribe.org, or contact us to have them sent to you either electronically or by regular U.S. mail. Please remember to check the “Lost List” while you’re visiting our website for friends and family we have lost touch with. We want to keep all of our tribal members informed and active with the tribe. We look forward to hearing from you!

Child Support Enforcement Program
Gina Roth

The Child Support Enforcement Program continues to grow by leaps and bounds. Rachel Overmyer will be joining the team as the new Program Coordinator. She graduated from the University of Kansas with a bachelor’s degree in Social Work, and is a licensed social worker who currently works as a Permanency Case Manager for KVC Behavioral Healthcare in Kansas City. Rachel also volunteers at a domestic violence hotline as a client advocate. Rachel will be attending training with other program staff and assist in developing and implementing the new program. The entire team looks forward to working with her.

The Delaware Tribal Court and Judges have been working with the Child Support Program to develop a judicial branch to enact and enforce child support orders. Chief Justice Don Mason and Director Gina Roth recently attended the Kansas Child Support Enforcement Association Conference in Salina, Kansas. The Child Support Enforcement Program will be housed in the Delaware Tribe’s Caney, Kansas office. The program will not only serve Washington, Rogers, Craig, Nowata and northern Tulsa counties, but will also serve 33 counties in southeast Kansas.

Staff members have had the opportunity to visit and observe several local tribal Child Support Programs, including that of the Kaw and Osage Nations. We are currently working with Gray and Gray to develop new departmental policies and procedures and court procedures.

The program continues to make progress in the planning and implementation phase and looks forward to having the capability to serve Native American children and their families in October 2014.

Anyone interested is invited to join the elders. The trained Tai Chi instructors are Judy Fu and Peter Fletcher. They were asked to come to our elder program for the benefit of the elders and they kindly accepted. Chair exercise is already offered Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Center but some people might enjoy finding a different approach to staying healthy or improving mobility.

Elder Exercise Program

Delaware Tribal Community Center
Bartlesville, OK
Mon, Wed and Fri 10:30 am

Elder friendly exercise group meets three times a week. Exercises are designed to do in a chair or standing.
we are pleased to announce that we will soon be nominating the Delaware Town site (23CN1), located near Springfield, Missouri, to the National Register of Historic Places. You may remember from earlier issues of this newspaper that the Tribe has collaborated with archaeologists from Missouri State University to further more than ten years of excavations and surveys of the area. The information gained from excavations at Delaware Town will significantly contribute to our understanding of our Delaware and national heritage, as it represents the only archaeological excavation of a residence associated with the Delaware occupation in the Missouri Ozarks. This site is situated within the historical context of the early movements of the Delaware and other Eastern Woodland tribes to regions west of the Mississippi River in order to continue their traditional lifeways away from the bloodshed and missionary efforts that were increasingly present on the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes frontiers following the American Revolution.

According to the historical literature, some Delaware groups first began moving into the Ozarks, along with other groups of their Shawnee, Kickapoo, Piankashaw and Peoria allies, in the 1780s. They first established villages in the eastern Missouri Ozarks. These Delaware and Algonquin immigrants were slowly pressured to points further west as American encroachment and harassment substantially increased west of the Mississippi following the Louisiana Purchase and the War of 1812. As these allied groups moved into the western Missouri Ozarks, the so-called main body of Delaware who had remained along the White River in Indiana agreed to the Treaty of St. Mary’s, 1818, in which they ceded all land in Indiana in exchange for “a country to reside in, on the west side of the Mississippi.” Then-Missouri territorial governor William Clark assigned the Delaware lands in southwest Missouri on the eastern border of the Osage Reservation. It was at the Delaware Town site that the Indiana Delaware and the Ozark Delaware coalesced in a linear riverine village along the James River from 1820 to 1822, and remained there until leaving for their Kansas reservation in 1830. During these years, Delaware Chief William Anderson, who had risen to prominence amidst the nativistic revivals in the Indiana villages, was looked to as the principal spokesperson for the newly-coalesced James River Delaware. Anderson also provided leadership for the neighboring Shawnee, Kickapoo, Piankashaw, and Peoria villages who settled in and near the Delaware reservation and subordinated themselves to them, whom they still considered as their “Grandfathers.”

The Delaware Town site is the archaeological remains of what was once a residence associated with this last Delaware and multi-tribal settlement present along the James River from 1821 to 1830. Delaware Town can thus significantly contribute to our understanding of this important component of Delaware history. Archaeological sites are destroyed every day when they are not actively protected. Once successfully added to the National Register of Historic Places, the Delaware Town Site would enjoy further protections under federal law from potential development that is currently threatening the integrity of the site. Who knows what we will learn from this site if it is preserved for the future?

Beyond the survey reports and conference papers that have come from research on the Delaware Town site. Although the Delaware Town site and others like are known and documented, their presence and significance may be underrepresented in the historical and archaeological record due to the often transient nature of these sites (often occupied for a decade or less) and their close similarity in material culture with other, non-Indian, historic-period frontier settlements. Documenting and preserving the Delaware Town site and emphasizing its veiled uniqueness, can thus significantly contribute to our knowledge of the Ozark region’s history. It is the only site of which I am aware that has yielded both archaeological evidence of the experience of Delawares and allied Algonquins in the Ozark region.

The value of this work to the Tribe is that it helps preserve this important component of Delaware history. Archaeological sites are destroyed every day when they are not actively protected. Once successfully added to the National Register of Historic Places, the Delaware Town Site would enjoy further protections under federal law from potential development that is currently threatening the integrity of the site. Who knows what we will learn from this site if it is preserved for the future?

Delaware Tribe visits Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes

By Alyssa Nenemay

PABLO – Council representatives for the “Lenape” Delaware Tribe of Indians traveled from Oklahoma to tour the Confederated Salish and Kootenai tribal operations. The group hoped to receive mentorship on how to successfully re-establish their own nation, which re-ceived federal recognition a short four years ago.

The Delaware, or as they were traditionally known “Lenape,” were among the first tribes to come in contact with Europeans in the 1600s. Forcefully relocated westward from their aboriginal territory along the Delaware River, the tribe’s historical relationship with the US Government is strained with war and resistance. The Delaware have received and lost federal recognition three times.

“We are survivors and adapters,” said Delaware representative Nate Young. “We’ve had a hard history but we’re trying to move forward. We’re looking for fresh ideas and that’s why we came here. We’re so impressed with everything the Confederated Salish and Kootenai tribes has been able to accomplish.”

With 10,500 members, the Delaware tribe is now based in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. Headed by its first female Chief Paula Pechonick, the tribe has established several programs for its members including historic preservation, environmental protection, language revitalization, and educational assistance.

“The Delaware are looking for support to reach a level that other tribes have reached,” said former Osage chief and the group’s consultant Jim Gray. “The example (CSKT) set with your self-governance is the direction they are trying to go. It’s no small fight—the city of Kansas hasn’t been open with the tribe’s development. Whatever advice or help you give won’t go unappreciated.”

During their two-day tour, the Delaware chief and tribal council members met with department heads to share ideas on how to expand on similar ventures, as well as learn how to establish and run new ones.

“Each tribe faces unique circumstance but we can all help each other to move forward,” said CSKT Chairman Joe Durglo. “I think we have some of the best staff in the country. They help us every day and I don’t know where we’d be without them.”
