Federal funding is requested to help support the Delaware Tribe of Indians effort to repatriate and rebury the physical Remains of 42 individuals and 5,642 Funerary Objects (Associated and Unassociated) excavated from the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA) that are culturally affiliated with the Delaware Tribe, Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge Munsee Community. The planned repatriation will be carried out in collaboration between the Delaware Tribe, the Stockbridge-Munsee Community, the Delaware Nation, the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA), and the National Park Service Northeast Region (NPS-NE). DEWA posted a Notice of Inventory Completion and Notice of Intended Disposition in the Federal Register in November 2008 (see attached). The reburial site has already been identified and is located within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. What remains is for the three culturally affiliated tribes to rebury the remains in the already determined location that is near the original internment sites. The requested funds will provide for a delegation of 12 tribal representatives from the Delaware Tribe of Indians to attend the reburial and carry out the appropriate observances that are scheduled to take place from September 14-18, 2009.

SECTION 2. PROJECT DESCRIPTION

All applicants must submit narrative responses to the questions on the following pages. Section 2 should not exceed five pages.

A. GRANT OBJECTIVES.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES. The goal of the NAGPRA Grants program is to increase the number of successful repatriations through support for projects that increase the ability of tribes, museums and federal agencies to facilitate consultations with each other. What are the goals and objectives of this project? How is this project consistent with the goal of the NAGPRA Grants Program? If applicable, describe how your project impacts current trends in NAGPRA as listed on page 5 in the Grant Guidelines.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES. Describe your capacity to achieve the objectives. How does this project relate to your tribe/museum's strategic plan and/or goals?

I. The primary objective is to rebury the physical remains of 42 individuals and the 5,642 funerary objects (associated and unassociated) that were excavated from historic and prehistoric sites within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA). Within this larger objective, the four objectives listed below will allow us to complete our primary objective. Objective 1D is the only objective that will require NAGPRA funding in order to be completed.

1A. Preparation of the remains: The physical remains and funerary objects associated with each individual will be separately wrapped in cloth by the DEWA and NMNH staff. The unassociated funerary objects will be individually wrapped in cloth as well. The cloth used to wrap the remains will be provided at no cost by the DEWA. Once the physical remains and funerary objects are properly prepared, objective A will be complete.

1B. Preparing and securing the reburial: The staff at the DEWA and the NPS-NE will work collaboratively to fund and ensure the security of the reburial that will take place within the boundaries of the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The location of the reburial has already been identified through previous consultations. The location is near a large archaeological site and the Delaware Water Gap staff has already performed an archaeological survey and environmental assessment to ensure that there are no archaeological or environmental resources that will be impacted by the reburial. Once the necessary security measures are funded by DEWA and NPS-NE, objective B will be complete.

1C. Providing the tobacco and cedar: The Delaware Tribe will provide the items necessary for the reburial ceremony. The necessary items include tobacco and cedar that will be used during the reburial. During the reburial, participants may leave some tobacco in the grave. The Delaware Tribe will provide a large pouch of tobacco. Following the reburial, a feast will be held at the reburial site and a portion of cedar will be needed to smoke off the participants following the feast. The Delaware Tribe will then provide the cedar necessary to perform the smudge following the feast. After the tobacco and cedar have been provided by the Delaware Tribe, objective C will be complete.

1D. Delegation from the Delaware Tribe to travel to DEWA to observe the reburial: NAGPRA funds are requested only to support the travel for a delegation from the Delaware Tribe to attend the reburial and oversee the final internment. The appropriate tribal representatives, including the Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director, members of the Delaware Tribe's Elder's Committee and Cultural Preservation Committee and representatives from the Delaware Tribal Council will travel to DEWA to attend the reburial ceremony. Once the delegation from the Delaware Tribe has attended the reburial, objective D will be complete.

B. SCOPE OF WORK.

GRANT OBJECTIVES. Describe the activities that the participants will carry out. Explain how the activities support the grant objectives.

PARTNERSHIPS. Provide a comprehensive list of project partners (includes all museums or tribes targeted for consultations, members of a collaborative, federal agency or university partners, etc.). Please note guidelines for letters of commitment on page 12 of the Grant Guidelines.

DELIVERABLES. List and describe all project deliverables for this grant.

EVALUATION. How will the activities be assessed and monitored? Be specific.

- I. The primary objective is to rebury the physical remains of 42 individuals and the 5,642 funerary objects (associated and unassociated) that were excavated from historic and prehistoric sites within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA). Within this larger objective, the four objectives listed below will allow us to complete our primary objective.

1A. Preparation of the remains: Representatives from the DEWA will prepare the human remains and funerary objects (associated and unassociated) for reburial. Such preparations will include identifying each individual set of human remains and the funerary objects (if any) that are associated with each. Fortunately the identification of individual human remains and their associated funerary objects has already been completed in the cultural affiliation studies performed by DEWA. Thus, the DEWA staff will use the cultural affiliation study to identify the individual remains with their associated funerary objects and will then wrap each set of remains in cloth. The unassociated remains will be similarly identified and wrapped separately in cloth. The wrapped remains will then be stored at the Schoolhouse curation facility at the DEWA where they will remain until the morning of the reburial (see Objective 1D). Once the bundles are prepared, objective 1A will be completed.

1B. Preparing and securing the reburial: DEWA has agreed to provide the machinery and technical support needed to carry out the following security measures. Using a DEWA owned backhoe, a burial pit will be dug to a depth of six and ½ feet. The burial pit will be large enough to accommodate the wrapped remains that will have already been prepared under objective 1A. A footing will then be carved out along the perimeter of the burial pit at a depth of three feet above the bottom of the burial pit. Following the reburial, DEWA staff will fill in the burial pit with dirt up to level with the footing. Then, a concrete slab will be poured on the footing at a depth of three feet. Above the concrete slab, three feet of dirt will be piled on top and then a security mesh will be placed over the entire filled in burial. Dirt and a layer of sod will then be placed on top of the mesh as needed to bring the top of the burial pit flush with the surrounding area and conceal the location of the grave. With the machinery and technical support provided by the DEWA, the NPS-NE has agreed to fund the purchase of the concrete slab and security mesh. After the burial pit has been prepared, and the concrete slab and security mesh have been purchased and put into place, objective B will be complete.

1C. Providing the tobacco and cedar: The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative will ensure that the tobacco and cedar are provided. After the tobacco and cedar have been purchased and provided, objective C will be complete.

1.D. Delegation from the Delaware Tribe to travel to DEWA to observe the reburial: The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative and 11 Delaware Tribal members selected from the Delaware Tribal Council, the Cultural Preservation Committee and the Elder's Committee will travel to the DEWA to participate in the reburial ceremony. The roundtrip travel will take place over 5 days. On the first day, attendees will fly from Tulsa, OK and arrive in Newark, NJ. Once in Newark, NJ, attendees will utilize two rental minivans (7 passengers each) to drive to Bushkill, PA where the attendees will be staying in a local motel for the next four nights. On the second day, attendees will make preparations for the reburial. The preparations will include the final planning that will need to be made for the reburial, a consultation between the three delegations and the DEWA, NPS-NE and NMNH staff and an opportunity for those who wish to stay with the prepared remains for an all night wake that is traditionally held on the night before the internment. On the early morning of the third day, the tribal delegations will meet the DEWA and NPS-NE staff at the DEWA headquarters at 8am. Two men from each tribal delegation will then travel to the Schoolhouse curation facility to gather and transport the remains to the reburial site while the remaining delegations and DEWA and NPS-NE staff will drive the one hour trip to the reburial location. The burial pit will have already been prepared by DEWA staff as stipulated in Objective 1B. The remains will then be placed by two male representatives in the grave pit and the opportunity will be provided for traditional observances to be held. Such observances include the offering of tobacco and earth to the deceased and the offering of prayer and final words at the burial. Following the reburial, the delegations and invited guests will gather for a feast following the burial at the Bushkill Meeting Center. On the fourth day, the tribal delegations will ensure the security of the reburial site. Such security measures will include having a tribal representative present while the DEWA staff fill-in the burial with earth and cap the burial with cement and security mesh as stipulated in Objective 1B as well as a final consultation with the DEWA staff concerning our instructions for how to maintain the perpetual security of the site. On the fifth day, the Delaware Tribal delegation will return home using the two rented mini-vans to drive to Newark, NJ and then fly back to Tulsa, OK. When the NAGPRA Director and the 11 Delaware Tribal members have traveled to DEWA, observed the reburial and returned home, Objective 1D will be completed.

Partnerships:

Stockbridge-Munsee Community
Delaware Nation
Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area
National Park Service, Northeast Region

Deliverables: A Final Project Report will be the deliverable for this grant. The Final Project Report will describe the actions that were taken during the course of the project in order to meet the primary goal of reburying the 42 individuals and 5,642 funerary objects (associated and unassociated) at the reburial site located within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The Final Project Report will also describe the actions taken to complete each of the four secondary goals (1A, 1B, 1C, and 1D) that will be necessary in order to complete our primary objective.

Evaluation: The activities will be assessed and monitored by the Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative who will be an integral component to the completion of the primary and four secondary objectives. As the primary objective of this project is to rebury the collection, the project's success will be assessed based on the Delaware Tribe's ability to continue working collaboratively with tribal representatives, DEWA and NPS-NE staff to complete the reburial of the collection. Once the collection is repatriated and reburied in a way that is considered acceptable by all parties involved, the project will be considered complete. The evaluation of the project's primary and four secondary activities will be included in the Final Project Report that is to be the deliverable for this grant.

- C. PERSONNEL QUALIFICATIONS. Who will carry out the Project Activities? List all project personnel, including consultants. Describe their responsibilities and the amount of time each will dedicate to the project. If particular individuals have already been identified to participate in the project, briefly describe how their experience and qualifications are appropriate to successfully achieve the stated objectives. If you plan to hire new personnel or consultant(s), describe the criteria that will be used to competitively select these individuals or services. All Federal grants require consultants to be competitively selected (see page 10 of the guidelines for more information). Attach brief resumes (no more than 2 pages) for project personnel and position descriptions for personnel still to be chosen.

NAGPRA Representative, Brice Obermeyer: The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director will work in collaboration with the NAGPRA Representatives from the Stockbridge-Munsee Community and the Delaware Nation as well as the with the DEWA staff to carry out the reburial. The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director will work with the DEWA staff to identify the individuals who will prepare the remains for reburial (Objective 1A). The NAGPRA Director will also work with DEWA and NPS-NE staff to ensure the security of the reburial (Objective 1B). The NAGPRA Director will also purchase or provide the necessary tobacco and cedar needed for the reburial (Objective 1C). The NAGPRA Directory will work with the Delaware Tribal Council to identify the 11 members who will attend the reburial and will then make the travel arrangements for those selected to attend (Objective 1D).

Brice Obermeyer has the experience and qualifications that are appropriate to fully achieve the stated objectives. Brice has served as the Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative since 2003 and in such capacity has written and was awarded two past NAGPRA Repatriation grants for the Delaware Tribe. He has planned and coordinated previous repatriations and reburials for the Delaware Tribe including a reburial of remains found on Ellis Island. He has also worked with museums on documenting their Delaware collections in order to begin the process of repatriation. Brice has also worked with collaborating agencies on the protection of historic tribal cemeteries in Oklahoma and Kansas. He holds a Ph. D. in Anthropology and has attended several NAGPRA training seminars on behalf of the Delaware Tribe.

D. SCHEDULE OF COMPLETION. Grant projects must be completed within 18 months. Using a table or outline format, list each objective, the major activities needed to complete the objective, and key dates associated with each activity.

I. Primary Objective: The primary objective is to rebury the physical remains of 42 individuals and the 5,642 funerary objects (associated and unassociated) that were excavated from historic and prehistoric sites within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The reburial will take place from September 14-18, 2009 and will take place at an already identified site in within the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. Within this primary objective, there are several activities listed below that will allow us to complete our primary objective.

1A. Preparation of the remains: The 42 individuals and the 5,642 funerary objects will be prepared for reburial. Each individual will be wrapped separately and will be wrapped with their associated funerary objects. Unassociated funerary objects will be wrapped individually but without the human remains with which they were once associated. The preparation of the remains will be completed by DEWA staff and is already underway. All of the remains will be wrapped over the course of the summer and will be completed by September 14, 2009.

1B. Preparing and securing the reburial: The DEWA staff will prepare the burial pit into which the wrapped remains will be reburied and the NPS-NE will purchase the cement slab and security mesh that will protect the reburial from being disturbed. The DEWA staff will dig the burial pit prior to the reburial, or at least by September 14, 2009. The reburial pit will then be covered by a tarp to protect the pit from rain and erosion. The NPS-NE will purchase the cement slab and security mesh over the course of the summer so that such necessary materials will be available to DEWA staff by September 14, 2009. After the reburial ceremony is finished on September 16, 2009, DEWA staff will fill in the burial pit and install the security measures beginning on September 16, 2009 and the secured reburial will be completed by September 17, 2009. A representative from the Delaware Tribe will be present during such final security preparations that will take place on September 16-17, 2009.

1C. Providing the tobacco and cedar: The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director will provide the tobacco and cedar that will be needed for the reburial ceremony. The tobacco and cedar will be procured by September 14, 2009.

1D. Delegation from the Delaware Tribe to travel to DEWA to observe the reburial: The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative and 11 Delaware Tribal members selected from the Delaware Tribal Council, the Cultural Preservation Committee and the Elder's Committee will travel to the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area to participate in the reburial ceremony. The roundtrip travel and reburial will take place from September 14-18, 2009. Prior to the reburial, the Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative will make all travel arrangements for the 12 member tribal delegation. Such arrangements will include the use of NAGPRA Repatriation funds to purchase the airfare, rental mini-vans, fuel and hotel rooms needed to accommodate the delegation. The Delaware Tribal NAGPRA representative will also work with the Delaware Tribe's accounting staff to use NAGPRA Repatriation funds to reimburse members of the delegation for mileage to and from the airport in Tulsa, OK, parking fees at the airport and per diem costs during the five days of travel. The airfare, rental mini-vans and hotel accommodations will be secured by September 1, 2009 while the mileage, parking fees and per diem costs will be reimbursed to each participant following the reburial after each participant provides the accounting staff with the necessary odometer readings and receipts. Such reimbursements will be completed by October 30, 2009. After all of the reimbursements are complete by October 30, 2009, the proposed NAGPRA funded project will be completed.

SECTION 3. BUDGET

Each cost item should clearly show how the total charge for that item was determined. If more space is needed, please follow the budget format on a separate sheet of paper. All major costs should be listed in budget categories similar to those listed below, and all cost items should be explained in the Budget Summary and Justification (Section 4). Note: Activities involving Smithsonian Institution museums are not eligible for funding under NAGPRA grants.

G. Indirect Costs	$ 0	$ 0	$ 0
TOTAL PROJECT COSTS	$ 14994.58	$ 0	$ 14994.58

Budget Justification. In the space below, provide a brief narrative justification of all cost items listed in the budget. Be specific and explain why these items are necessary to accomplish the grant objectives. If the project involves travel costs, include a brief summary of each trip (for example, Project Director and two tribal elders will fly from Hometown to Someplace and stay three days to examine Someplace Museum's collection). If purchasing or renting computer equipment or other large budget items, justify their necessity and provide cost quotes for each such item. Use an additional sheet, if necessary.

Travel and Per Diem:

To complete Objective 1D, it will be necessary for a delegation of tribal representatives from the Delaware Tribe to travel to Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The delegation will include 12 representatives that will include the Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Representative and members of the Delaware Tribal Council, Delaware Cultural Preservation Committee and the Delaware Elders Committee. The Per Diem and Lodging budget is based on the standard federal per diem rate for Bushkill, PA which is $70 for lodging and $39 for meals and incidental expenses giving a total of $109 per day. In order to provide for 12 people for 5 days will require a total of $6540 for Per Diem and Lodging. The transportation costs were estimated based on the average costs of roundtrip flights available from Tulsa International Airport to Newark Liberty International Airport. The costs ranged from $275/per person (Continental Airlines) to $1200/per person (Delta Airlines) with the more expensive flights having a nonrefundable option. A mid-range estimate of $500 was chosen as this amount would likely give us the needed flexibility in flight times and refundable status for making airline reservations for a delegation of 12 people. The additional $49.50 is the amount needed per person to reimburse our 12 person delegation for roundtrip mileage from Bartlesville, OK (location of the Delaware Tribal Headquarters) to the Tulsa International Airport which is a total of 85 miles. The federal mileage rate is $.585/mile giving a total of $49.50 for mileage per person. The total transportation costs for the delegation's roundtrip travel to Bushkill, PA thus equals a total of $549.50 per person and a total transportation cost for 12 people is $6594.00. The total travel ($6594) and per diem ($6540) expenses are thus projected to require a total of $13134.00. NAGPRA funding is thus requested to provide for the costs associated with such travel in order to complete Objective 1D.

Other Costs:

Grant Writing Stipend: The Delaware Tribe has agreed to provide the NAGPRA Representative with a stipend of $380 to compensate his work on preparing the NAGPRA Repatriation Grant and carrying out the major objectives listed in the grant including his consultation with DEWA and NPS-NE staff in preparation for the reburial as well as his work in making the travel arrangements for the tribal delegation to attend the reburial.

Two Rental Minivans: The delegation's travel to the DEWA for the reburial will also include the need to rent two minivans from a rental company at the Newark Liberty International Airport. Dollar currently offers two Dodge Caravan Minivans that accommodate 7 passengers each and the budgeted estimate is based on their current rates. Each Minivan can be rented for 5 days at a rate of $395.29 each giving a total of $790.58 for two minivans for five days.

Tulsa Airport Parking Fees: NAGPRA funding is also requested in order to reimburse members of the Delaware Tribal delegation for any costs associated with parking at the Tulsa International Airport. On-site covered parking is available at the airport for $10/day and funding is requested to cover the costs for 12 personal vehicles to park for 5 days giving a total of $600 for parking.

Gas: Funding for gas to fuel the minivans will also be necessary. The budgeted estimate is based on the cost for the two minivans to travel from Newark Liberty International Airport to Bushkill, PA then to the Reburial Site and back to Bushkill, PA and then return to Newark International Airport. The total roundtrip between Newark International Airport to Bushkill, PA is 165 miles and it is an additional 60 miles roundtrip travel from Bushkill, PA to the reburial site giving a total travel of 225 miles per minivan and 450 miles in all. Each minivan can travel 15 miles per gallon and thus it will be necessary to consume 15 gallons for each minivan and 30 gallons for both to complete the travel. At an estimated rate of $3.00/per gallon for fuel and a total of 30 gallons to be consumed, the estimate for the fuel cost for one minivan is $45 and for both minivans the fuel cost is estimated at $90.

SECTION 5. STATUS OF CURRENT OR RECENT NAGPRA GRANT(S)

Please indicate whether or not the Tribe or Museum has a current or recent NAGPRA Grant.

- _____ 1. No. We do not currently have a NAGPRA Grant, nor did we complete a NAGPRA grant in the past five years.
- _____ 2. Yes. We currently have a NAGPRA Grant.
- ___X___ 3. Yes. We completed a NAGPRA Grant within the past five years.

If you answered "yes," to any of the above, list each grant number and provide an overview of each grant's activities and accomplishments. Specify the number of repatriation claim letters, Notices of Inventory Completion, Notices of Intent to Repatriate, or completed repatriations resulting from the grant and provide details. If additional space is needed, attach no more than one page.

2004 National Park Service: NAGPRA Documentation Grant (Grant Number 40-04-GP-366): Funding awarded to digitize the existing Delaware NAGPRA inventory, provide NAGPRA training for tribal staff, hold an Intertribal NAGPRA Summit and begin consultation with the State Museums of New York and New Jersey.

Federal funding provided under the FY 2004 Documentation award enabled us to create a digital database of over 7,000 Delaware affiliated items held by museums and federal agencies (Objective I). Based on our previous knowledge of our existing inventories, we also used NAGPRA funding to initiate consultation with the State Museum's of New Jersey and New York (Objective II). NAGPRA support also allowed our staff to attend two NAGRA training seminars (Objective III) and allowed us to host an intertribal summit that produced a draft Intertribal NAGPRA Policy between the Delaware Tribe, Delaware Nation and Stockbridge-Munsee (Objective IV). Each of the above projects is described in greater detail below.

I. We created a digital database of the museum inventories received under a FY 2000 Documentation grant. We first hired a Delaware tribal member, Levi Randall, to serve as our Tribal Liaison. One of his primary responsibilities was to create the digital database. Randall purchased the database software, familiarized himself with the software and entered museum records into the database daily. The digital database is now complete and includes over 7,000 separate entries. Our plan is to continue to update the digital inventory as new inventories are received.

II. The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director and the Tribal Liaison traveled to the State Museums of New Jersey and New York for a NAGPRA consultation. Work conducted under the FY 2000 NAGPRA Documentation grant found that the inventories from the State Museums of New Jersey and New York contain a substantive collection of Delaware human remains. The Project Director and the Tribal Liaison traveled to both museums in the summer of 2005 for the purpose of consultation thus completing our second objective.

III. The Delaware Tribe NAGPRA Director received training in techniques for documenting the cultural affiliation of Delaware cultural objects. The NAGPRA Director attended two separate NAGPRA seminars. The first training session was a two day seminar entitled, "Strategies for Tribal Cultural and Historic Preservation," offered by the Falmouth Institute in Las Vegas, NV in September 2005. The second seminar completed was the National NAGPRA Program's NAGPRA Training Program held in Albuquerque, NM in November 2005.

IV. We arranged for and conducted an Intertribal Summit with authorized representatives from the Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge-Munsee. We hosted an intertribal summit with representatives from the Delaware Nation and the Stockbridge-Munsee to discuss the disposition of culturally unidentifiable human remains at the New York and New Jersey State Museums. An Intertribal NAGPRA Policy was also drafted as a primary result of our meeting.

2004 National Park Service: NAGPRA Repatriation Grant (40-04-GP-62R): Funding awarded for the reburial of Delaware remains held at the State Museum of Pennsylvania.

While still federally recognized, the Delaware Tribe actively pursued the documentation and repatriation of the Delaware affiliated collection held at the State Museum of Pennsylvania. NAGRPRA funds supported our travel to the State Museum to aid in the documentation process which resulted in the posting of the Notice of Inventory Completion for the collection. A site at Pennsbury Manor in Southeastern Pennsylvania was identified through consultations with tribal elders and park staff and we prepared for the expected reburial. However, our proposed reburial was thwarted when federal recognition was judicially terminated in November 2004 and the collection remains at the State Museum of Pennsylvania.

NAGPRA Grants Committee Members:

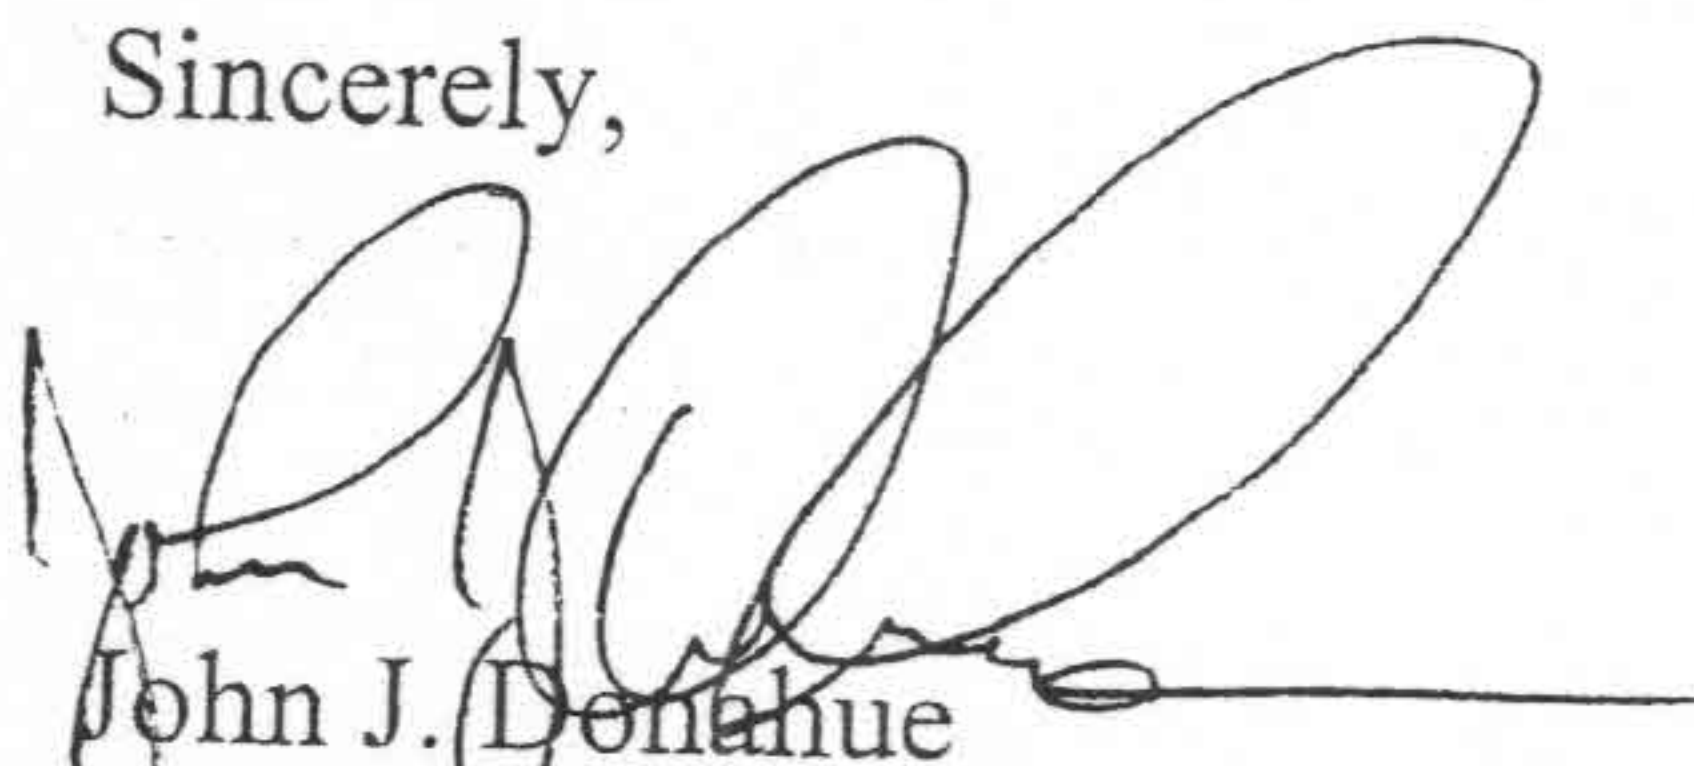

As the Designated Federal Official for Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) compliance at Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA), I have received a joint claim for remains and funerary objects published in the Federal Register on November 5, 2008 (Volume 73, Number 215, Page 65876-65879). The Delaware Nation, the Delaware Tribe of Indians, and the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe have made this joint claim as culturally affiliated, federally-recognized tribes. I will honor the claim and de-accession NAGPRA inventory items to the three federally-recognized tribes.

They have also each applied for 2009 NAGPRA Repatriation Grants to assist their tribal members in attending repatriation and reburial of the claimed remains. Our park wholeheartedly supports and encourages these applications.

We continue to work jointly with the Delaware Nation, Delaware Tribe, and Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe on the repatriation and reburial of Delaware and proto-Delaware human remains and funerary objects excavated from the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area (DEWA) and we feel that such NAGPRA funding will be helpful to us in our efforts to finalize this long-standing reburial project.

Please copy this letter, as needed, and include it in each of their application packages.

This notice is published as part of the National Park Service's administrative responsibilities under NAGPRA, 25 U.S.C. 3003 (d)(3). The determinations in this notice are the sole responsibility of the superintendent, Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

In 1967, human remains and funerary objects were removed from the Miller Field site during legally authorized excavations by Seton Hall University, under the direction of Herbert Kraft. According to Kraft, the human remains were reburied in the early 1990s prior to the promulgation of NAGPRA's regulations. The two unassociated funerary objects are one celt and one stone. The burial style and diagnostic artifacts date the burial to the Minisink phase (A.D. 1350–1650) of the Late Woodland Period.

In 1971, human remains and funerary objects were removed from the Harry's Farm site in Warren County, NJ, during legally authorized excavations by Seton Hall University, under the direction of Herbert Kraft. According to Kraft, the human remains were reburied in the early 1990s prior to the promulgation of NAGPRA's regulations. The two unassociated funerary objects are an incised pipe and a plain pipe. The Munsee Incised style pipe dates the burial to the Minisink phase (A.D. 1350–1650) of the Late Woodland Period.

In 1974, funerary objects were removed from the Minisink site, in Sussex County, NJ, during legally authorized excavations by Seton Hall University, under the direction of Herbert Kraft. According to Kraft, the human remains were not removed from their burial pits. The 11 unassociated funerary objects are 1 ceramic pot, 1 pestle fragment, 1 celt fragment, 1 milling stone, 2 biface fragments, 3 rim sherds, 1 teshoa, and 1 brass chain. Burial styles and diagnostic artifacts date two burials to the Late Woodland Period (A.D. 1000–1650), while the brass chain dates a third burial to the Historic Period (circa A.D. 1650–1750).

In 1972, human remains and funerary objects were removed from the Pahaquarra site in Warren County, NJ, during legally authorized excavations by Seton Hall University under the direction of Herbert Kraft. According to Kraft, the human remains were reburied in the early 1990s prior to the promulgation of NAGPRA's regulations. The 61 unassociated funerary objects are 2 pots, 38 black glass beads, 4 blue faceted glass beads, 1 red glass bead, 2 shell beads, 2 brass wire hair spools, 2 gunflints, 6 flintlock trade gun fragments, 1 clasp knife, 1 bag of botanical remains, and 2 metal fragments. Burial styles and pottery types date two burials to the Late Woodland Period (A.D. 1000–1650). The remaining items date to the Historic Period (circa A.D. 1650–1750).

Archeological evidence indicates that the people living in the Upper Delaware Valley formed a distinct group with unique stone tool traditions, bone tool traditions, settlement patterns, subsistence patterns, and burial styles as early as A.D. 1000. Continuity in the artifact styles, settlement and subsistence patterns, and burial styles suggest that the same people remained in the Upper Delaware Valley throughout the Late Woodland Period (A.D. 1000–1650) and into the Historic Period (circa A.D. 1650–1750). Historic records from the 17th and 18th centuries refer to the inhabitants of the Upper Delaware Valley, including Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, as "Minisink." Linguistic information indicates that these people spoke the Munsee dialect of the Delaware language. During consultations, tribal representatives identified the Upper Delaware Valley as the traditional territory of the Lenape, or the Delaware-speaking people. As their traditional lands were sold, some Munsee people joined the Stockbridge Mohican in Massachusetts and New York and remained with them when the community resettled in Wisconsin. Today their descendants are members of the Stockbridge Munsee Community. Other Munsee people joined communities comprised primarily of people from southern New Jersey and Pennsylvania who spoke the Unami dialect of the Delaware language. These combined Delaware communities migrated westward and eventually settled in Oklahoma. Today descendants of these communities are members of the Delaware Nation, Oklahoma or the Delaware Tribe of the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma.

Officials of Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area have determined that, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001 (3)(B), the 76 cultural items described above are reasonably believed to have been placed with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony and are believed, by a preponderance of the evidence, to have been removed from a specific burial site of a Native American individual. Officials of Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area also have determined that, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001 (2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the unassociated funerary objects and the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma; Delaware Nation, Oklahoma; and Stockbridge Munsee Community, Wisconsin.

When consultation was initiated, the Delaware Tribe of Indians, Oklahoma was Federally recognized. During consultations, court rulings determined that the Delaware Tribe cannot be recognized as a separate entity from the Cherokee Nation and that the Delaware Tribe is a part of the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma. A cultural affiliation determination was made with the Delaware Tribe of Indians, Oklahoma prior to its change in status. This determination is reflected in this notice as affiliation with the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma.

Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with the unassociated funerary objects should contact John J. Donahue, Superintendent, Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, River Road, Bushkill, PA 18324, telephone (570) 426–2418, before December 5, 2008. Repatriation of the unassociated funerary objects to the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma; Delaware Nation, Oklahoma; and Stockbridge Munsee Community, Wisconsin may proceed after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area is responsible for notifying the Cherokee Nation, Oklahoma; Delaware Nation, Oklahoma; and Stockbridge Munsee Community, Wisconsin that this notice has been published.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On August 29, 2006, the Commission instituted this investigation, based on a complaint filed by Caterpillar Inc. ("Caterpillar") of Peoria, Illinois. The complaint alleges violations of section 337 in the importation into the United States, the sale for importation, and the sale within the United States after importation of certain hydraulic excavators and components thereof by reason of infringement of U.S. Trademark Registration No. 2,140,606, U.S. Trademark Registration No. 2,421,077, U.S. Trademark Registration No. 2,140,605, and U.S. Trademark Registration No. 2,448,848. The complaint further alleges that an industry in the United States exists as required by subsection (a)(2) of section 337. The complaint named twenty one (21) firms as respondents. The complainant requested that the Commission issue a general exclusion order and cease and desist orders. Two respondents, Barkley Industries LLC ("Barkley") and Frontera Equipment Sales ("Frontera"), have been found in default. Nineteen respondents have been terminated as a result of settlement agreements.

On September 9, 2008, the ALJ issued an initial determination, Order No. 67, granting Caterpillar's motion for summary determination concerning violations of section 337. He also issued his recommended determinations on remedy and bonding. No petitions for review of the initial determination were filed. On October 8, 2008, the Commission extended the date for determining whether to review the initial determination until October 30, 2008.

The Commission has determined to review Order No. 67. The Commission requests briefing by the parties, based on the record, on the following questions:

1. Has Caterpillar rebutted the presumption established by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in Bourdeau Bros., Inc. v. International Trade Commission, 444 F.3d 1317 (Fed. Cir. 2006), that its official U.S. dealers had apparent authority to sell gray market hydraulic excavators in the United States? If not, could Caterpillar rebut the presumption if given the opportunity to supplement its motion for summary determination of no violation? For background concerning the Commission's analytical approach in gray market cases, please refer to the Commission Opinion in Certain Agricultural Vehicles and Components Thereof, Inv. No. 337–TA–487 (Aug. 25, 2008).

2. Did any of Caterpillar's overseas affiliates, subsidiaries, and/or official dealers sell gray market hydraulic excavators to or in the United States? If so, has Caterpillar rebutted, or if given the opportunity could Caterpillar rebut, the presumption that these dealers had actual or apparent authority to sell these excavators in the United States? Also, how many gray market sales were made to or in the United States by
